WAR AID BUMPS SMACK INTO TEA TIME OF BRITISH

They Accept Billions Condescendingly.

(For a second time The Tribune has sent a reporter to Washington to view the scene thru midwestern eyes. This is the second of a series of articles by Mr. Morgenstern.)

BY GEORGE MORGENSTERN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—Condescending, so the Washingtonians tell you, is the word for the British. They are in line for something like a 13 billion dollar lend-lease handout, but the general impression is that they still don't like the way we part our hair. And they're getting a little impatient because the Yanks aren't on the way.*

An American ordnance officer, doubtless thinking of the injunction of Luke xi., 21, "When a strong man armed keepeth his goods, his goods are in peace," called it the "less-lien" act and commented ironically, "What we ought to do is seek dominion status so we'll get paid for what we're giving away."

Some Bofors anti-aircraft gun tubes, he said, are made under license in Canada, and the United States army is getting some of them from the Canadians—for cash on the barrel head.

Forester on Deck.

The British writer of sea tales, C. S. Forester, author of "Captain Horatio Hornblower," has recently been installed in the British embassy. Some may consider it a waste of a good novelist, but Forester is manfully serving the empire by acting as press trouble shooter.

One of his first assignments was to attempt to correct a misunderstanding with the religious press, which had been complaining that a rise in barley imports indicated an increase in beer drinking in Britain. Forester conscientiously assembled statistics to show that barley imports had really declined.

Many men in the American services here feel that it was a test of tact for the British to take all this country had to give in a proper spirit of graciousness, and they have not come up to it very well. A long list of incidents which have not improved feeling was recited.

Troubles at Seaports.

The most serious—never reported in the newspapers—have been riots between British and American sailors at Newport News and every other seaport where British warships are undergoing lend-lease repairs or British sailors have visited. The trouble at Newport News originated when one of the British sailors on shore leave remarked to an American sailor:

"Yank, I hear you've got a 13th stripe on your flag."

"That so?" said the American. "What is it?"

"Yellow," said the Briton, and the fight was on. The mêlée became so general that the town constabulary was called out to aid military police.

A navy man had this to say of the British fleet:

"We are years ahead of the British in naval engineering. I am almost

BRITONS PROMISED INCREASED RATIONS OF FOOD AFTER NOV. 17

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 2.—"Because of the help our American friends have given us, Britain is going to have more food than we have had for a long time," Food Minister Lord Woolton declared today. He said the new point system of food rationing which begins on Nov. 17 will liberalize rather than restrict consumption.

Canned meats, canned fish, and baked beans, most of which comes from America under the lend-lease act, will be rationed. Consumers can make purchases at any shop, whether they are registered there or not.

Consumers will be allowed 40 points weekly and with these they may buy: A pound tin of meats or fish, such as salmon, sardines, crayfish, lobster, crab, or tuna, 16 points; all other canned fish, mainly herring and pilchards, 12 points; home or Irish produced meats, 8 points; home produced or imported canned beans in sauce or gravy, 4 points. These products will be distributed in addition to the present rations.

F. D. R. Orders Coast Guard in Naval Service

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., Nov. 2.—President Roosevelt, by executive order, has transferred the coast guard from the treasury department to the navy department, it was announced late today.

Only the text of the order, dated yesterday, was made public. There was no explanation of why the action was taken. The guard operated as a part of the navy in the World war, in which the United States was a belligerent.

Affects Some 500 Craft.

The order assigns the entire coast guard, its equipment and personnel, to the navy. The guard, with ranks and pay identical with the navy's, had some 1,350 officers, 15,000 enlisted men and 4,000 civilian employés during the last fiscal year. Included among its equipment were 267 cutters, 229 picket boats, numerous auxiliary craft, and 50 airplanes.

The coast guard has been coöperating for months with the navy, which has taken over a number of its seagoing vessels. Ten coast guard cutters were transferred to Great Britain last April.

In Service Near Iceland.

Altho the coast guard had been stripped of a number of its larger vessels, it had been operating in Icelandic waters where American warships have been attacked by German submarines.

In his executive order the President cited the authority vested in him by the act of Congress approved Jan. 28, 1915 and amended last July 14, and directed that "the coast guard shall from this date, until further orders, operate as a part of the navy, subject to the orders of the secretary of the navy."

The order then directed that "all coast guard personnel operating as a part of the navy, subject to the orders of the secretary of the navy, pursuant to this order, shall, while so serving, be subject to the laws enacted for the government of the navy."

CIO OPENS DRIVE TO SIGN MILLION ON U. S. PAY ROLL

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2 (AP).—The CIO today announced an organizing drive among government workers with the goal of enrolling a million members in the United Federal Workers of America.

"Since the national defense emergency the number of federal employés has increased to around 1,250,000," the CIO announcement said. "This makes the federal government the biggest employer in the United States and creates a natural field for CIO organization."

The CIO said it was intended to "conduct the drive in such a manner as to help the national defense program in every way possible."

"The CIO believes that federal workers have the same need for collective bargaining as workers in private industry," the union said. "Wages of hundreds of thousands of government employés are not high enough to provide a decent standard of living.

"Overtime work without compensation—much less the time-and-one-half rate that prevails in private industry—is prevalent in the government service. Job security, despite civil service, still exists largely in name only."

A PRINCESS JILTS SOLDIER WHO CAN'T BE OFFICER

LONDON, Nov. 2 (AP).—Princess Obolensky today announced the breaking off of the engagement of her daughter, Marie, to Henry Wallace Norrington of Toronto, a sapper in the royal Canadian engineers.

The London Pictorial discussed the break in an article quoting the daughter as saying it was made because Norrington apparently had no chance of becoming a commissioned officer. But the mother said "it was not just that he lacked a commission. We did not believe that he was the man for our daughter."

Their engagement was announced April 19.

The princess is no relation of Alice Muriel Astor whose marriage to another Prince Obolensky ended in a Reno divorce in 1932.

SENATE TO VOTE ON 'UNDECLARED WAR' THIS WEEK

Big Split Expected on Neutrality Act.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—With the country sharply divided on the issue, congress is about to vote the United States into an undeclared war with Germany and Italy and possibly Japan as well.

The resolution repealing virtually the entire neutrality act, and thereby permitting American merchant ships to be armed and to carry cargoes to belligerent nations and abolishing combat zones from which Americans and American ships are now barred, is scheduled to be passed by the senate this week. Removal of these restrictions lets down the bars to full participation of our navy and air force in the undeclared war.

The prospective division on the measure is approximately 53 senators in favor of the revisions and 43 against it.

Never before has our country gone into a war so greatly divided on the question, wherefore arise many misgivings of the ultimate result.

Narrower Margin in House.

While the vote may be proportionately closer in the house there is every reason to believe that the chamber will approve the senate bill. The measure originally passed by the house provided for only the repeal of the neutrality act forbidding the arming of merchantmen.

The senate foreign relations committee added the amendments providing for repeal of the section forbidding American ships to touch at belligerent ports and the section establishing combat zones from which Americans and American ships are barred. It is this broadened resolution the senate will pass this week and return to the house for its action on the senate amendments.

While the anti-interventionists have been making an uphill fight from the start against the President's war policy it was the sinking of the destroyer Reuben James by a German submarine last week that removed all doubt of the passage of the repealer.

Gain for War Party.

Altho no popular demand for war swept the nation, altho the popular reaction was clearly one of acceptance of the incident as an unavoidable casualty of such a shooting war as the President has led the country into, there nevertheless was a manifestation of resentment that visibly strengthened the war party in congress.

It is such incidents that the administration has been counting upon to mobilize American public sentiment for war. Months ago Joseph Alsop, New Deal columnist and a Roosevelt kinsman, published the undenied statement that the President was awaiting such incidents for the realization of his war policy.

Significant of the change in the situation in favor of the war party is the disclosure that the anti-interventionists will not offer a declaration of war as an amendment to the neutrality repealer in the senate this week.

Demanded Vote on War.

Several weeks ago when the interventionists were so fearful of public sentiment that they confined the neutrality act amendment to the arming of merchant ships, the anti-interventionists were challenging the war

Traps 5 Police in Flat; Law Gets Last Say

Trapped in an apartment kitchen by a man with an automatic rifle, five policemen looked into the muzzle of the weapon for 30 minutes yesterday and calmly discussed with their captor the principle that a man's home is his castle.

Andrew Tiedeman.

This is their story:

Policemen Rundin Borge and Valentine Ridge of a Sheffield avenue station squad investigated when a roomer telephoned that Andrew Tiedeman was threatening to kill his wife, Florence Tiedeman, in the Tiedemans' second floor apartment at 3124 Southport avenue.

Shown Into Flat.

The policemen climbed the back stairs. Tiedeman, a stationary engineer, 27 years old, welcomed them.

But as they stepped inside he raised the automatic rifle that he had been holding at his side, motioned them to chairs, and warned them not to move. Then he began expounding his theory that a man's home is his castle, the officers said.

The policemen tried to persuade their captor to put down his gun, but were interrupted at times by the sound of weeping from the bedroom closet.

Two More Covered.

Presently George Schert and John Patrick Foley of a roving detective bureau squad knocked on the back door. Tiedeman seated them.

A few minutes later Policeman Victor Eck arrived. He was forced to take the fifth chair.

Eck soothed Tiedeman, and then took over the discussion. Tiedeman listened, fascinated. Once he turned to ask a question.

Rifle Knocked Down.

Borge bounded from his chair and knocked the rifle from Tiedeman's hand. The other policemen overpowered their captor.

Hastening to the bedroom closet the policemen found Mrs. Tiedeman, 25, huddled in terror with her two small children and one of the roomers who had taken them there for safety.

Tiedeman was locked up on a charge of disorderly conduct. Several hours later his wife appeared, sobbing, to give the $25 bond required for his release.

24 ARE TAKEN ILL AT NAVY SCHOOL; FOOD IS BLAMED

Twenty-one sailors and marines were in the sick bay [infirmary] of the Navy Service school at Navy pier last night and three more were in the Marine hospital, suffering from what navy physicians termed upset stomach caused by something they ate at luncheon.

Several of the 1,000 men became ill late in the afternoon. The city police were then asked to tell all men from the school they saw on the streets to return at once as a precautionary measure. Navy trucks and station wagons conveyed sailors from the loop to the pier. All who gave indication of being ill were put to bed.

Comm. Samuel A. Fuqua, navy physician, said none was in a serious condition. An investigation was begun to determine what dish caused the illness.

3 Ships Crash; Huge Bomber Feared Down

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 2 [Special].—Two army pilots were killed today when their pursuit planes crashed near San Anselmo. A third plane crashed six miles from San Anselmo after the pilot bailed out. Three other army planes, including a Boeing B-17 four motored bomber, known as a flying fortress, were missing as rain, fog, and snow closed in on the state. Ten crew members were missing.

The two pilots were burned beyond recognition when their single seat P-40 planes cracked up on Bald Hill, San Anselmo, 20 miles north of here. They were identified by bracelets as Lieut. R. E. Speckman and Lieut. Thomas LeRoy Truax. The pilot who bailed out of his ship is Lieut. W. Radovich. He suffered a broken leg.

The single seat ships were part of a flight of 13 bound from Portland, Ore., to Fresno, Cal. Seven of the ships landed at Fresno and three at Oakland, Cal.

Two Parachute to Safety.

The B-17 bomber was missing in a swirling snow storm over the rugged Sierra Nevada range. Two of the crew of nine parachuted to safety and it is feared the ship crashed on Tells Peak.

The two men who reached the haven of the ranger station at Georgetown were Corp. Sterling Isom and Private Alden H. Stooley. A searching party, headed by the soldiers, started out tonight.

Isom and Stooley said they had been ordered to use their chutes "when the plane started to break up" in the heavy wind. Army officials would not speculate on the fate of the other seven members of the crew.

Peak In Isolated Region.

Tells Peak is in a rugged and isolated region 20 miles east of Georgetown. It marks the divide between two forks of the American river and is on a direct line from Reno, Nev., to Sacramento—the starting point and destination of the flight.

Overcast weather prevented an aerial search for two army training planes en route to Moffett Field, Cal., that were long overdue.

One, piloted by Lieut. A. B. Dannell with Lieut. R. D. Leimbacker as a passenger, was last reported in the rough country south of Fresno after leaving March Field, Cal. The other, piloted by Lieut. Robert E. Agnew, Moffett Field instructor, left Stockton early today and was due before noon.

Others of Bomber Crew.

The other members of the crew of the missing Fortress were: Lieut. L. M. H. Walker, pilot; Lieut. J. R. Mode; co-pilot; Staff Sergt. Eugene M. Clemens, Corp. Walter B. Glanz, and Privates Robert V. Mosley, Harold Salisbury, and Fred E. Pekuri.

Col. Lowell H. Smith, commanding officer of the 5th airbase at Salt Lake City, Utah, said the army knew early in the morning that the bomber's radio was not working properly.

Meanwhile, an army rescue party reached Pendleton, Ore., with three slightly injured flyers whose army plane, a B-18 bomber, last night scraped the top of a mountain and bounced 1,000 feet down a rocky slope.

Three Are Injured.

Maj. R. R. Walker, Newkirk, Okla., the pilot, and Capt. Phillip Foote, Los Angeles, co-pilot, were treated for minor bruises. Staff Sergt. William A. Bustrum, Bellflower, Cal., was suffering from bruises and shock.

The ship took off from Pendleton in a fog last night for Denver, Colo., and crashed a few minutes later on Table Rock, 15 miles southeast of Pendleton. The plane was not seriously damaged.

HEART ATTACKS FATAL TO TWO AT BEARS' CONTEST

Heart attacks yesterday were fatal to two spectators among the 46,484 who saw the Green Bay Packers beat the Chicago Bears, 16 to 14 in Wrigley field. Mrs. Mayme Halas, wife of Frank Halas, traveling secretary of the Bears, and sister-in-law of George Halas, Bears' owner-coach, died at 9:30 p. m. last night in St. Anthony hospital where she was taken after her collapse at the game. John Dresen, 48 years old, of Racine, Wis., died of a heart attack suffered during the last two minutes of the game.

Mrs. Halas, who was 59 years old, resided at 156 South Hamlin avenue. She was seated in the press box when the heart attack occurred shortly after the game ended.

Mr. Dresen was a tavern owner. He lived at 1430 Washington avenue, Racine.

CRIMEA CAPITAL FALLS TO NAZIS; DRIVE ROLLS ON

Move on Sevastopol, Big Naval Base.

Won't Invoke Pact

BERLIN, Nov. 2 (AP).—Informed spokesmen said tonight they did not believe the question of invoking the three power pact "arises at all at this time" in connection with Germany's formal declaration that the United States had attacked her.

Under the pact Germany, Japan, and Italy agreed to aid each other in case either were attacked by a power not now at war. Altho the German statement yesterday declared the United States destroyers Greer and Kearney "have attacked U-boats and consequently America attacked Germany," the spokesmen said:

"In our opinion such a question [of invoking the pact] does not arise at all at this time. The government declaration was Germany's statement of the case in answer to Roosevelt's last speech. It was for the record."

BERLIN, Nov. 2 (AP).—The Nazi swastika has been planted over Simferopol, the capital of the Crimea, and German spearheads have advanced a long way along the intervening 40 miles to Sevastopol, the spacious Russian Black sea naval base, the Hitler command announced today.

German tanks and motorized infantry, rolling in a pell mell pursuit across the treeless plains of the peninsula, have reached on a broad front the northern fringe of the 5,000 foot high Yaila mountain range which skirts the shore of southern Crimea, the announcement added.

The daily war bulletin indicated the Germans rapidly were closing in upon Sevastopol, big sea fortress and harbor where all the war fleets of Europe could anchor, and that they believed their prospects of rapidly gaining possession of the entire peninsula were bright.

Fires Burning in Savastopol.

Large fires were burning in Sevastopol as a result of German air raids which caused "great destruction" there, German dispatches said. Two warships and a transport about to embark "fleeing Russian troops" were said to have been hit.

The high command said Rumanians and Germans occupied Simferopol yesterday. This means the Germans' forces had driven about 75 miles from the four mile wide Perekop isthmus connecting the Crimea with the mainland since breaking thru there last Tuesday. Simferopol is a city of 98,000 population and Sevastopol has 78,000.

The Germans were approaching the historic battlefield of Balaclava, scene of the storied "Charge of the Light Brigade" in the British-French siege of 1854-'55.

German news dispatches said an entire infantry division broke thru a strongly fortified soviet field position on the central front about Moscow and took several towns and villages in violent hand to hand battles.

Take Industries in Donetz.

The high command was silent on its Moscow operations, but farther south, in the Donetz basin, it said German and Italian troops were crushing Russian resistance and succeeding in taking additional industrial areas.

On the southern front, particularly bad weather conditions and soviet counterattacks with tanks were mentioned. It was stressed, however, that the Russian attacks were without success.

Bavarian troops are holding one bridgehead, presumably on the east side of the Donetz river, the news agency added.

The high command said that in the north the Russians also were very active in their efforts to force a crossing of the Neva river to the south of Leningrad. All these efforts were declared to have been frustrated and many soviet tanks destroyed.

Bombers Attack Helsingfors.

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Nov. 2 (AP).—Air raiders attacked Helsingfors three times tonight. No bombs fell in the center of the city. The attacks brought to 109 the total made on the capital in the present war.

Finnish airmen set a tug afire, disabled two armed convoy ships and machine gunned the crews of two gunboats racing to the rescue of the other craft in the Gulf of Finland.

WAR AID BUMPS SMACK INTO TEA TIME OF BRITISH

They Accept U. S. Billions with Condescension.

Parts Hidden by Crew.

Altho cognizant of the morale and fighting qualities of the regular British naval personnel, American officers say that a large part of the British merchant marine is manned by the combings of the waterfront.

"We can't compiete repairs on some of these merchantmen," one officer said. "The crew members hide parts on us so we can't fit things together again."

Another cause of annoyance is the British refusal to do things in a hurry.

"Our naval technicians are busier now than they have ever been," was one comment. "They have their hands full with the naval expansion program. Yet when they go down to Norfolk to see what has to be done to put crippled British warships back into fighting trim, they barely have time to sit down in conference when one of the Britons slaps the table and says, 'Ten o'clock. My word! Time for tea.' Then everything comes to a full stop until the tea ceremony is concluded."

An Example of Leisure.

A business man manufacturing circuit breakers had the same story to tell.

"We want them," he was told at the British purchasing commission, "but you'll have to deliver four weeks from today."

He protested that the time was too short, but after getting into communication with his factory manager, learned that by putting everything into the job his workmen could turn out the apparatus in the specified time.

He then went home to tool up and await confirmation of the order. When it still had not arrived four months later he queried the BPC and was blandly told, "O, we've been a bit rushed lately, but don't fret. We'll get around to it."

Ruefully reflecting on how his production schedule had been thrown out of gear, the manufacturer wondered whether the British yet realize that they are fighting a war.

The Road to a Contract.

A Chicago manufacturer of radial tools, however, had a different experience. Without the business, his small plant might have been forced to close. Now he's the playboy of the Mayflower lounge, buying drinks for everybody and handing out dollar tips every round.

Figuring that the glum looking Britishers might not be so amenable, he went over to the British Supply council and tackled an Australian official, lacking in insular narrowness. In him he found a kindred spirit.

"Drunk with him four days," the Chicagoan blithely remarked.

He got the contract.

An anomaly is that while Washington display windows are filled with bolts of British woolen protruding from sacking stenciled "Britain Delivers the Goods," a drive has just been launched here to collect 500,000 discarded American overcoats for use of the men who patrol Britain's roads against parachute attack. The Hecht company, one of Washington's largest department stores, which sells British woolens to American customers, is handling the collection.

Teatime with Reeves.

One of the most curious commodities brought to this country is Reeves, the butler at the British Purchasing commission offices at 15th and K streets. K street has been renamed "Britain avenue" by the Washingtonians.

Reeves has the job of brewing up a pot of tea whenever the officials of the commission have a hankering for it. At 4 o'clock tea and biscuit are handed around even to the clerical force. American girl clerks at first were overawed by this perfect specimen out of Wodehouse and treated him with great deference, addressing him as "Mr. Reeves."

"Reeves," would be the dignified correction, "just Reeves."

After a few weeks of exposure to democracy, however, Reeves underwent a change in personality. The face of wood broke out in wreathed smiles. He took to bantering with the girls and even borrowed cigarets from them. His morale finally was so shot that he handed out tea without even wearing a tie. It was quite shocking, like Conrad's stories of white men going to pieces in the tropics.

Caste Is Maintained.

The high officials of the BPC, however, retain a strict sense of the proprieties. Noblesse oblige is all right within limits, but the Englishman in Washington still retains the idea that the colonial should keep his place.

Australians and Canadians in the employ of the BPC complain that they are not regarded as equals, and an American secretary was not long in discerning that the British official for whom she worked was regarding her in somewhat the same light as a native bearer. This gentleman never thought of going to the water cooler himself as long as he had a menial to fetch and carry his glass for him. The menial, being a spirited American girl, quit him cold and went to work for the American government at a higher salary.

The BPC now sprawls over a dozen tightly guarded buildings scattered around town. Among them are newly completed apartment houses, taken over and converted into offices before their tenants could move into them. All employés are fingerprinted and identification cards are necessary to obtain entrée.

The most curious of these establishments is the late Chauncey De Pew's home on Massachusetts avenue, an imposing mansion with vast rooms replete with plush hangings and gold cloth upholstery. This has been converted into living quarters for employés of the BPC. A nice sense of social fitness is preserved.

In the old servants' quarters on the unheated fifth floor, which may not prove too comfortable in the dead of winter, live a number of junior stenographers, who earn $105 a month and pay $20 a month rent. Directly below them, in a luxurious suite, lives Sir Louis Beale, a member of the Supply council.

Things may not be quite as cozy as at Redroofs, Groombridge, Sussex, but as Sir Louis drifts off into his dreams he may give a thought to the chilly upstairs quarters and reflect philosophically that, still, it's better than camping out.

Map of Reputed Nazi Plans Recalled

This map was drawn from details of a dispatch to the New York Times of June 17 from Buenos Aires, Argentina, which reported "an elaborate scheme, worked out here (Buenos Aires) if not approved in Berlin, to redraw the map of South America to eliminate some of the smaller countries and thus smooth the way for the new order." The dispatch, by Harold Callender, outlined the proposed division of South America into regions. In his Navy day speech, President Roosevelt spoke of a "secret map made in Germany," showing South America and Panama divided into "five vassal states."

O'DANIEL ASSAILS CONDONING UNION ARMS SABOTAGE

Charges Politics Protects Labor Racketeers.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel [D., Tex.] pictured the Roosevelt administration tonight as a labor government that is protecting labor racketeers and labor sabotage of national defense for political benefits.

Sen. O'Daniel.

The senator was speaking in a debate on "The Rights and Responsibilities of Labor in America's Defense Program" on the American Forum of the Air, broadcast by the Mutual Broadcasting system. Other participants were James B. Carey, national secretary of the Congress of Industrial Organizations; Noel Sargent, secretary of the National Association of Manufacturers, and Frank P. Fenton, director of organization of the American Federation of Labor.

Sen. O'Daniel said that he evidently was chosen to represent in this debate "that great throng of workers who are forced to join unions in order to get to work for their own government and are fleeced of extortionate sums by their racketeer leaders for their God given and government denied right to work."

$21 a Month Against $21 a Day.

"Those wild-eyed labor leader racketeers continue to carry out their nefarious sabotage of forcing vital industries of this nation to remain idle during a time when bombers, tanks, guns, ammunition and other war materials are essential to the protection and very existence of our American democracy," O'Daniel went on. "I also represent the boys of this nation who have joined the army, navy, and air forces and placed their very lives on the altar for freedom and democracy.

"Their pay is a paltry $21 per month. At the same time these war lords of labor demand in some instances as much as $21 per day, and call a strike until they get it. If their demands are not met promptly they become still more domineering and hire thugs and goon squads to take clubs and guns and beat patriotic citizens for no other reason except that those citizens desire to work at lawful tasks of their own choosing and back up our army and navy in the task of defending our democracy in a time of peril.

"It is quite apparent to me," he said, "this policy of subserviency of our great government to the whims of labor leader racketeers is wholly a matter of political expediency, and that those officials in high places who are tolerating this un-American labor leader racketeering are looking more to their personal interests in the next election than they are to the protection of our American democracy."

Mr. Fenton said the American Federation of Labor "if given an opportunity would assume responsibility for an adequate labor supply with effective training of workers for defense jobs, and for developing and maintaining union-management cooperation for the most expeditious and most skillful production of the tools and munitions of defense."

He resented O'Daniel's remarks on labor racketeering, asserting there have been cases of racketeering in the United States senate, the New York Stock exchange, and in industrial management.

Sargent Offers Program.

Mr. Sargent advocated a five point program to end arms industry strikes. It provided that neither employers nor employés use the emergency to change bargaining relationship, the right of any citizen to work on arms whether a member of a union or not, use of every means of conciliation, and a secret vote before a strike, refusal of mediation boards to put pressure on employers to accept a closed shop, or recommend wage compromises that will cause higher costs or prices.

Mr. Carey contended that industrial peace would flow from the adoption of the union shop as distinguished from the closed shop. The distinction is that in a closed shop only men supplied by the union can be hired. In a union shop the union has no control over hiring men, but the management is obligated to discharge an employé who does not become a member in good standing with the union.

Hear King of Denmark Defies Nazis with Speech

New York, Nov. 2 (AP).—A British broadcast declared tonight King Christian of Denmark had "defied the Nazis" by telling students in Copenhagen, "My greatest wish is to hand over to my son that free Denmark as I and my generation received it."

NEW ARMY PILOT ACCIDENT RATE SHOWS INCREASE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2 (AP).—A slight increase in the accident rate of newly trained flyers was reported today by the war department. The report, however, said that for military flying as a whole, including training, the accident rate per mile flown remained substantially unchanged from recent years.

Some two score army flyers have met death in the last two weeks. The war department disclosed no official figures but noted the number of miles flown was increasing in "almost astronomical proportions" as the air forces expand.

The increase in the rate of accidents was ascribed to "pilots who have gone into combat squadrons fresh from the flying schools."

Higher Rate Feared.

"This increased rate actually has been lower than the rate which was expected, the department said.

"This slightly increased accident rate is expected to continue above the pre-emergency normal until the 'experience level' of the new pilots rises."

The accident rate for older pilots was said to have improved and to be now below the "pre-emergency" 1937-'39 level.

"Army flight operations now are on an emergency status, which represents something between peacetime flying and wartime flying," the war department said.

Safety Termed Secondary.

"Safety, while still stressed as of major importance in connection with all types of operations, must become secondary to the carrying out of missions which are essential to the realistic training of combat pilots."

The war department noted that the intensified training program, now being geared up to produce 30,000 pilots a year, has increased congestion around airports.

JUDICIAL BATTLE ENDS TONIGHT; VOTE TOMORROW

Green to Make Final Plea for Republicans.

BY PARKE BROWN.

The Cook county judicial campaign winds up tonight just as it started nine weeks ago today.

On Labor day Gov. Dwight H. Green told the annual Republican picnic in Riverview park that he was against coalition and directed his local leaders to put a complete ticket into the field. Tonight by radio he will make the final plea in behalf of that ticket.

It is confidently expected by Republican headquarters that the governor's summons to his supporters will be the old war cry to smash the Democratic bosses, the one that he has hurled in every campaign since he became a candidate for mayor of Chicago early in 1939.

Democrats Stick to Policy.

And there is just as much certainty felt that the Democrats, leaders and candidates alike, will adhere to their own steadfast policy of concentrating attention to the presence on their ticket of all the elected judges of the Superior court, Republican and Democratic, whose terms are expiring, and their slogan that justice knows no politics.

What is true of the beginning and the end of the campaign is also true of the intervening weeks. There has been little campaign activity of the usual sort and consequently there has been no indication of general public interest.

Mere ward organization meetings have been the rule. There has been no battle between the opposing nominees. In this latter respect the contest has been completely free of personalities. There have been opportunities for dirty words about men on both tickets, but no candidate has been willing to use them.

In this way there has been complete silence on the fact that one nominee has lived in Chicago only three years; that another was a candidate on the 1921 city hall Republican ticket which was slaughtered by a coalition behind the sitting judges the city hall sought to unseat. No mention has been made that one candidate was indicted and brought to trial—altho exonerated early in the proceedings—or that disbarment proceedings, also wiped out, were once started against another nominee.

Green Criticized by Ward.

Gov. Green has been criticized by Harold G. Ward, minority leader of the state senate, who is the only nonincumbent on the Democratic Superior court ticket, and therefore was not bound by the judicial ethics which restrained his running mates. But the day after day target of the Republicans was the Kelly-Nash organization.

But Mayor Kelly and County Chairman P. A. Nash, refusing to go on the defensive, have remained silent except for a victory claim by Nash.

"We expect the candidates on the Democratic coalition ticket," said Nash in that statement, "to be elected by approximately the same majority that the coalition candidates for Circuit court judges received in 1939, when the candidate receiving the lowest vote on the coalition ticket received 260,000 more votes than the high man on the opposition ticket."

Dempsey Is Silent.

Republican Chairman John T. Dempsey declined several requests for a forecast. His predictions in the governorship primary and election last year were confirmed by the official returns, it was said, and he didn't want to risk spoiling his record.

Radio speeches for the Republican slate have far outnumbered those for the Democrats. There were several on the final Sunday but the one considered most significant was an afternoon talk by Judge John F. Haas, a Republican incumbent on the Democratic ticket.

His speech was the closest approach to the defense of the Kelly-Nash organization that has been heard this year.

"If Patrick A. Nash and Edward J. Kelly," said Judge Haas, "can be designated as 'political bosses' for putting upon the Democratic ticket seven outstanding Republican judges, then the feigned issue of the Kelly-Nash machine falls of its own weight."

The Question.
What was your youthful ambition?

Where Asked.

The Answers.

Edmond White, typewriter service man, 3522 N. Whipple street—I wanted to be an auto racer: one of the goggled men who drive those shiny cars around the track like a streak of lightning. Today the ordinary automobile travels too fast for me, but I still like the races.

Norman E. Abrams, library clerk, 1506 South Lawndale avenue—More than anything else I wanted to be a street car conductor. I rode the cars for hours at a time so I'd have a good backlog of experience. Then as the years went by the glamor wore off. And now I prefer an auto to a street car.

Ingwald Wik, student, 930 Leland avenue—It was to be a doctor. I had an aunt who was a nurse and her stories made a big impression on me. But when I was a little older I saw a movie of some operations that were a little too vivid. Decided to be a window decorator instead.

James P. Harper, metal worker, 440 South Clark street—It was more than 70 years ago that I first decided that to be an instructor was the greatest of all ambitions. At that time the few teachers in our parochial school were held in the highest esteem and the community revolved about them. But circumstances intervened and the ambition was never realized.

Mary B. Zones, librarian, 1145 Morse avenue—My ambition to be a nurse dates back to the time when my mother bought me a white uniform and a blue cape with a red cross on the cap. My dolls didn't mind the attention but my poor kittens and dog suffered many a tight bandage around the neck.

Annette Goldman, student, 1146 Columbia avenue—I was very determined to be an actress. I spent much of my playtime dressed in mother's dresses and high heels, acting in front of the mirror. I was certain that as soon as I was discovered my future was made.

Sen. Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.] spoke in behalf of the New Deal last night at the 75th anniversary meeting of the Adolf Kraus lodge of the B'nai B'rith. Twelve hundred persons were present in the grand ballroom of the Drake hotel.

The majority leader of the senate said that Americans must give some of their riches to preserve the freedom of other lands, and called upon the nation to defend the freedom of the seas.

He said that Hitler will turn to Africa and then to South America in event of a German victory in Europe.

REDS DENOUNCE LA GUARDIA FOE'S FOREIGN POLICY

Seek More Drastic Action by United States.

New York, Nov. 2 (AP).—Without naming Mayor Fiorello La Guardia as its choice for reelection, the communist party today denounced the foreign policy of La Guardia's Democratic opponent.

In the party's final rally just two days before the Tuesday election, which drew 16,000 persons to Madison Square Garden, it charged that Brooklyn District Attorney William O'Dwyer, Democratic mayoralty candidate, was linked with noninterventionist groups.

Termed Communist Candidate.

Both O'Dwyer and State Democratic Chairman James A. Farley have denounced the mayor as a communist candidate. President Roosevelt has indorsed La Guardia, thereby splitting the Democratic party in New York.

La Guardia earlier in the campaign had said he "did not seek" and "did not want" communist support when the party withdrew Israel Amter, communist mayoralty candidate, and 15 running mates, from its city slate and denounced "Tammanyism."

Party Chairman William Z. Foster at the rally tonight called for a more drastic foreign policy on the part of the United States, and Amter charged that O'Dwyer was ignoring "these basic issues, repeal of the neutrality law, opening of a western front and all-out aid to the forces fighting Hitler."

Calls O'Dwyer Red Baiter.

"There is a reason," Amter said, "for the position of O'Dwyer. O'Dwyer has the support of all reactionary and pro-Hitler forces in the city. O'Dwyer's platform is one of Red baiting, of preventing anti-Hitler unity, and of stirring up racial and religious hatred."

In one of a series of radio speeches in behalf of O'Dwyer, Farley declared New Yorkers "have found out the lack of fortitude in La Guardia."

"In these perilous times, when anything may happen," Farley said, "it would have been sheer folly to have given the protection of our great city for the next four years to a leader who has proven himself so cowardly that he ran at the first verbal barrage aimed his way. We may be entering the most dangerous period in our city's history. You have no right to gamble our safety on the whims of a showman."

3 AT COMMUNIST PARTY MEETING ATTACK TRIBUNE

Three members of the communist party yesterday attacked the THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE at a party sponsored meeting in the Civic Opera house. The meeting, attended by 2,800, was held in observance of the 24th anniversary of the establishment of the soviet union and was called an anti-Hitler day program.

The speakers interspersed their remarks against THE TRIBUNE with pleas for speedy and adequate aid for Russia and appeals for the signing of petitions to be directed to President Roosevelt asking the release of Earl Browder, American communist party leader now in prison for violation of a passport law.

The speakers were Morris Childs, state leader of the communist party; Phil Bart and Ray Hansborough, colored. Helen Bartush of the Chicago Civic Opera company sang several numbers.

12,000 LUTHERANS HEAR DR. MAIER'S PLEA: SHUN ISMS

Suffering of Church in Europe Told.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Twelve thousand Lutherans yesterday were given a graphic account of the effects of communist and Nazi religious persecutions in Russian and German controled countries of Europe by Dr. Walter A. Maier of St. Louis, Mo., noted radio preacher. The service was a Lutheran Hour rally at the International amphitheater.

Dr. Maier said the World war was the parent of the present tyrannous European isms and that these would become more dangerous to free American faith if the United States enters this conflict.

Restriction on Freedom.

"The first World war gave rise to dictatorship, the tyranny over men's consciences, the restriction of religious freedom and the Gospel," Dr. Maier declared. "We want none of that totalitarianism in the United States. Our forefathers came to this country to escape governmental tyranny and, we as any other group in the United States, want all Americans to be on guard against every beginning of totalitarianism."

Dr. Maier said that Lutheran churches suffer more from the present hostilities than any other Protestant group. The Red régime in Russia, he said, has wiped out the organized Lutheran church in that country with its one million members.

Baltic Nations Ravaged.

Latvia, with more than one million Lutherans, and Estonia, with almost a million more, Dr. Maier continued, first were overrun by the Russians and then subjected to the destruction and death of the German-Russian war. Of other countries, he said:

"In Germany the evident Nazi opposition to the churches, and particularly the coaxing of youth from Christian altars, have had disastrous effects.

"Poland, with one million Lutherans, is one of the most destitute and devastated countries of Europe. Two Scandinavian countries almost completely Lutheran, Denmark with more than three million Lutherans, and Norway with almost three million, are occupied countries under the restrictions of religious exercise."

Dr. Maier said that 78 per cent of all Lutherans live in warring lands.

IRISH FEAR U. S. MAY TAKE OVER ISLE FOR BRITAIN

American Building Crews Rush War Bases.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Fear that America is going to assume control of Ireland received a public airing today when Lord Donegall, writing in the Sunday Dispatch, discussed "What America Will Do With Ireland." The Irish peer, with whom this correspondent had lunch and dinner while in Belfast recently, frankly states, "Some people have it firmly fixed in their minds that the Americans are going to 'take over Ireland'."

Lord Donegall, an Ulsterite, admits "it is an open secret that a great many American technicians and skilled workmen have been and are employed on vast constructions and enterprises of an engineering nature," but says "it is absurd" for the British to ask America to "take over Ulster," unless "we are in the throes of an invasion."

Americans There Five Months.

One doesn't have to go farther than Dublin, where both the Germans and Italians have legations, to learn that some Americans have been in Ireland for five months, that they brought with them all materials and equipment for the "vast constructions" mentioned and that all material entered duty free.

Careful reading of the provincial press would have revealed certain "incidents" in which Americans were involved in brawls with the Irish. Because of the reluctance of local authorities to deal with disturbances in which Americans were involved, it was even suggested that the United States set up its own police force.

Recently the Londonderry papers announced 94 Americans were returning home. Some, it was stated, were returning because they were "fed up" with conditions in Ireland; others because their conduct made it undesirable that they remain.

THE TRIBUNE correspondent called on the American superintendents of two separate projects. Both were uncommunicative regarding the work that is being done, altho its nature is apparent to any one in the localities.

Attitude of Irish Mixed.

As Lord Donegall states, the attitude of the Irish toward an American "invasion," as he puts it, is a mixed one. He admits that he regards it "as ridiculous" for any one to suppose that Eamon de Valera, Ireland's prime minister, would invite the United States to "take over" Ireland except in case Britain is invaded and the United States is officially in the war against Germany.

However, there are many in favor of the presence of the Americans in Ulster. They are bringing in food which, because of its variety, is the envy of many restricted by rationing. The Americans distribute lemons, cigarets, and special canned goods to local friends. They spend American money, which is having an effect on business. They hire workers and let subcontracts.

Indeed, despite some concern regarding America's eventual designs, the majority of Ulsterites probably approve their presence.

Object to Being "Chattels."

In Ireland reference is made to the "immorality" of transferring the inhabitants to America as "if they were chattels," but this accusation is unjustified, as whatever is being done in Ulster is a temporary emergency measure and will end with the war.

Reports of American disturbances are exaggerated, according to one construction engineer. He said that usually on jobs of this kind one can expect about 5 per cent of misfits, while actually on this job less than 2 per cent have been incompetent or disturbing elements.

One paradox of the Irish situation is the fact that the Catholic population of Ireland seems more pro-British than that of Ulster. Prime Minister Churchill has abandoned a scheme to conscript Ulsterites into the army—altho "we have the right to do so"—because it would cause more trouble than good. Now the British fighting forces are getting more voluntary recruits, both men and women, from Ireland than from Northern Ireland.

Despite the partitioning of Ireland, the frontier barrier is not a great one. True to their customs, a simple identity card is all that is needed to pass from Ireland to Ulster or vice versa.

Food Traffic Prohibited.

Ireland, where eggs, butter, and meat are not rationed, has prohibited the export of food. When traveling from Dublin to Belfast, a woman in my compartment had five pounds of butter concealed in a handbag, but an Irish customs official discovered and confiscated it. I do not know whether she was fined or not.

Despite the fact that Ulster actually is in the war zone and Ireland is neutral, there is no inspection of papers, documents or anything of this nature either when one enters or leaves. In Britain, the closet scrutiny of any paper or document is made and even books are not taken out of the country without undergoing careful examination by inspectors. As in one instance, a Catholic priest, leaving the country, had with him what seemed to be an ordinary cardboard on which solitaire or bridge could be played. Inspectors refused to allow him to take the contraption with him but promised to send it on after they examined it for code.

NAZIS REPORTED 20 MILES FROM BLACK SEA BASE

Reds in Fighting Retreat Toward Sevastopol.

BULLETIN.

MOSCOW, Nov. 3 [Monday] (AP).—The Moscow radio said today the battle for the soviet capital "has entered a most serious phase." The broadcast said the Germans were throwing new masses of men, tanks and guns into the battle.

LONDON, Nov. 3 [Monday] (AP).—German troops storming down the Crimean peninsula have reached the town of Bakhchisaral, in the hills 20 miles north of the big Russian Black sea naval base of Sevastopol, reports reaching London said early today.

Red forces retreating toward Sevastopol were declared fighting stubborn rear guard action in this vicinity.

Military observers here believed the Russians were trying to regroup their badly shattered forces for a decisive stand at some point farther south.

Military circles in London interpreted reports of violent air attacks on Sevastopol in the Nazis' drive into the Crimea as an indication that the German air force has launched a life and death struggle with the Red fleet for control of the Black sea.

[Moscow's communique yesterday made its first mention of heavy engagements in the Crimea, announcing that "particularly fierce fighting" took place there. It told also of heavy air fights in the Moscow region, with 3½ German planes shot down during yesterday.]

See Red Fleet as Target.

The Germans were believed to be throwing their air force strength and choice troops into attacks aimed at knocking out the Red fleet and the defenders of the southern Caucasus oil fields.

One military authority said he thought the Germans would use their successful Crete experience and drop parachute troops on the naval base at Novorossisk, Caucasus port on the Black sea east of the Crimea, while making the big Crimean port of Sevastopol useless by continuous bombings.

Prevented from Escape.

This observer said that loss of these two bases would mean annihilation of the Reds' Black sea fleet, since other ports are unsuitable for operations and Turkish neutrality prevents the soviet ships from escaping thru the Dardanelles.

Once established in the Caucasus, with Sevastopol and Novorossisk impotent and with the Red fleet pushed helplessly out into the Black sea, the Germans would be in a position to smash south directly at the British empire while holding off the Russians during the winter with reduced forces, this expert said.

Lull on Moscow Front.

KUIBYSHEV, Russia, Nov. 2 (AP).—A lull on most sectors of the central front—the first in four weeks of fighting—was reported in Moscow broadcasts today.

At Tula, barricaded munitions city 100 miles south of the capital and southern anchor of the defense line, heavy fighting was reported continuing, however, with a living dike of Red army men and soviet workers holding off a fiercely beating German tide.

If Tula falls the Germans would be in a position to thrust eastward to encircle Moscow.

The exodus of soviet personalities and government departments from Moscow continued with the establishment of a residence here by Michael Kalinin, who as chairman of the presidium of the supreme soviet council holds a post corresponding to president of the country.

Vishinsky Joins Exodus.

Andrei J. Vishinsky, vice commissar of foreign affairs, accompanied Kalinin and joined S. A. Lozovsky, the other vice commissar, and Vyacheslav Molotov, commissar of foreign affairs.

Premier Josef Stalin, however, remained in Moscow with other members of the state council of defense.

All male residents of Kuibyshev who are capable of bearing arms were called up to start military training. The city soviet forbade entry into Kuibyshev to all except permanent residents or representatives of government organizations in an effort to relieve overcrowding.

SECRET SERVICE GUARDS HOME OF JOHN ROOSEVELT

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 2 (AP).—Arthur N. Grube, head of the secret service bureau here, said today treasury department agents have been assigned to guard the Coronado home of President Roosevelt's youngest son, John, and the latter's wife and 16 month old son.

Grube said that recently two men, apparently under the influence of liquor, had been "pounced upon" by federal agents while attempting to peer thru windows in the Roosevelt home. The men, he said, were given five day jail sentences in police court.

John Roosevelt is an ensign in the navy, assigned to the naval air station on North Island.

Grube said, "There's obviously a reason for the department's action. We don't send our best men scurrying around the country on wild goose chases." He declined to comment on whether there had been any reports of a possible attempt to kidnap the Roosevelt baby.

GERMANS TO KILL JEWS WHO LEAVE POLISH GHETTOS

CRACOW, German Occupied Poland, Nov. 2 (AP).—The ghetto is the sole living space allotted to Jews in the unannexed part of Poland and unauthorized trespassing over the ghetto boundaries means death, a decree published in the Cracauer Zeitung provides.

The decree, by German Gov. Hans Frank, said Jews leaving residential quarters allotted to them would be punished by death.

And the "house" of life insurance has been so run, so carefully safeguarded by law and by the character of its management that when winter comes, or dark days, its doors open to pour out millions upon millions of dollars in benefits that the policyholders have created by their foresight and thrift.

WAR PARTY RIDES U. S. TO BRINK OF UNDECLARED WAR

Speeds Action to Kill the Neutrality Act.

party to vote on an outright declaration of war.

Confident that they would have the votes to defeat overwhelmingly a declaration of war by congress, the anti-interventionist leaders announced that they would propose such a declaration as a substitute for the neutrality repealer. That, thought the anti-interventionists, would put the war mongers on the spot, convict them of trying to get the country indirectly into a war they would not vote for directly, and record the country as overwhelmingly against war.

The interventionists were so alarmed by the prospect of this challenge that their publicists broke into plaints of the unfair tactics of their opposition.

A Change in Sentiment.

They argued that a declaration of war, of course, would be defeated but the only result would be to convince Adolf Hitler that he had nothing to fear from the United States, whatever his depradations upon American rights and interests.

Since the sinking of the Reuben James, however, the situation has changed markedly. While the interventionists have no more stomach for a declaration of war than before, because of uncertainty of the outcome, the anti-interventionists have cooled on the proposition for a somewhat different reason.

One of the anti-interventionist leaders said today that the declaration of war amendment would not be offered for fear of the possible consequences.

The intimation was that, in view of the reaction to the sinking of the Reuben James and of other incidents that might occur in the meantime, the interventionists might be able to put across a declaration of war, the war party being fortified by some anti-interventionist votes. Then the anti-interventionists would be compelled to share the blame for getting the country into war.

George Urges Revision.

In a radio address today Sen. Walter F. George [D., Ga.] argued for the neutrality revision tho admitting that it might be followed by a course of action inviting war.

"The arming of our ships and the sending of our ships into belligerent zones are not such acts as will necessarily take us into war," said Sen. George. "Great world conflicts are no longer caused by mere incidents. The people have learned how to determine values. Our people have patiently withstood deliberate and wanton attacks by Japan within the last four years. Outrageous incidents, such as we have suffered within recent days, may arouse, but no single incident alone is likely to drive our people into war.

"It is true that we must trust the chief executive. That is no new doctrine or practice with the American people.

"As long ago as 1799, before John Marshall became chief justice of the Supreme court of the United States, we learned that the President is the sole organ of the nation in its external relations and its sole representative with foreign nations.

"The repeal of the pertinent sections of the neutrality act may be followed by a course of action which will invite war. Many of us have strongly stood against involvement in the war.

"Yet we cannot shape our foreign policies, policies upon which the life of the nation at this time and thru all of the long future must depend, under the shadow or threat of war. That is not the American way."

MUSSOLINI CUTS BREAD RATIONS OF RICH ITALIANS

Gives More to Women, Children, Labor.

ROME, Nov. 2 (AP).—Premier Mussolini today ordered that more bread should be allotted expectant mothers, boarding school children, and Italy's hardest working manual laborers at the expense of the rations of the rich.

The quota for pregnant women and the boarding school children was raised about 3 ounces a day to a total of 10 ounces and that of such workers as miners, stevedores, and mountain laborers was increased from 12 to 15 ounces daily. An extra ounce and a half of bread and spaghetti each was ordered added to the food given children fed in school refectories.

To make these increases possible unspecified reductions were ordered in the rations of landlords who do not farm their own lands and "certain well-to-do categories which, having greater possibilities, can adapt themselves to further economy in the consumption of bread."

Finance Minister Paolo Thaon Di Revel told the Fascist chamber budget committee Italy had raised 76,000,000,000 lire [about 4 billion dollars] in the first 15 months of war, mostly by borrowing from public and various government agencies.

JAPAN IGNORES HITLER CHARGES; BUSY OVER CHINA

Press Says America Isn't Prepared for War.

TOKIO, Oct. 3 [Monday]—(AP).—Germany's charge that the United States had attacked her was viewed by informed observers today as a statement for the record to counter accusations by President Roosevelt, and it was not believed the Germans would ask Japan to invoke the three-power pact.

This sort of diplomatic maneuver evidently was not unexpected here. The Japanese attitude appears to be one of concentration on far eastern affairs with only slight emphasis on the Rome-Berlin-Tokio alliance.

The Japanese press continued to play up the theory that the United States is unprepared now to wage war in both the Pacific and Atlantic.

Diet to Discuss Crisis.

All signs pointed to a full discussion of Japanese-American relations by Premier Tojo and Foreign Minister Togo during the session of the diet starting Nov. 15.

The foreign office controlled Japan Times and Advertiser said the leader of Japan's new military government would stress the need for the Japanese people to face the situation "with grim determination."

This newspaper failed to include the three power pact as a part of fundamental policy to be aired at the forthcoming legislative session.

Fear Spread of War.

HONGKONG, Nov. 2 (AP).—The far eastern situation simmered ominously today as diplomats watched the Japanese closely for a clue to their course in the light of Germany's formal charge that she had been attacked by the United States.

Many competent observers agreed that the war in Europe may spread to the Pacific as a result of Japan's axis pact pledge to aid Germany in event of attack.

These events were noted carefully:

1. Four large Japanese cruisers were seen moving southward off the coast of Kwangtung province, southern China, yesterday, strengthening belief Japan may be planning a new thrust southward.

Japs Quit Hongkong.

2. Seventy Japanese residents of this British crown colony have departed in the last fortnight after closing down their businesses here. Only 170 now remain of a total of nearly 600 Japanese here on July 26. All Japanese hotels in the colony have been closed.

3. A dispatch from Kuldyshev quoted S. A. Lozovsky, vice commissar for foreign affairs, as saying Russia hoped the Japanese government would punish those guilty of a Siberian frontier attack reported by Tass, the Russian news agency.

PERSONAL LOANS

Do You Need Money?

Spend 2 Minutes to Read How You Can Save as much as $11.74 on a $100 Loan with Merchandise Bank's rate of

1½c A DAY PER $100*

YOU CAN expect to pay about a nickel for a package of chewing gum, for example, no matter where you buy it. But a loan at one place may cost you 3 or 4 times more than the same amount borrowed somewhere else.

That is why it's so important to have all the facts before you borrow. Here is a quick, easy way to determine for yourself the true cost of a loan.

How to Check Claims

Let's say you want to borrow $100. Suppose you are asked to make 12 payments of $9.77 each to repay a $100 loan (a typical case elsewhere). Multiplying the amount of each payment by the number of payments gives you $117.24—the amount you pay back. But you only get $100. The difference—$17.24 in this case—is the true cost of your loan.

How to Save a Monthly Payment

With one co-maker, a $100 loan to be repaid in 12 months costs you only $5.50* at Merchandise Bank. You SAVE $11.74 —more than enough to make a monthly payment on your loan! And Merchandise Bank's low rate of 1½c a day per $100 includes Life Insurance which pays the loan in event of your death and relieves your family and co-signer of obligation.

On Signature Only

Would you prefer to borrow on your signature? It is easy and simple to do so here. On this popular plan, the cost for a $100 loan repayable in 12 months is only $8. You save $9.24—more than 50%—in the typical case elsewhere shown above.

These are our basic requirements for signature only loans:

(a) over 21 years of age.
(b) employed 2 years on present job with established concern.
(c) $100 or more monthly income.

So, you see, no matter whether you want to borrow on your signature or with one co-maker, you are sure to save at least half of average costs elsewhere.

Lower Payments

Because our loan costs are less, your monthly payments also are less here. You can have up to 18 months to repay (maximum allowable under new Government regulation). See (and compare) table of typical monthly payments.

AMOUNT OF NOTE	EASY MONTHLY PAYMENTS
	18 Months	12 Months
$100	$ 5.55	$ 8.33
200	11.11	16.66
300	16.66	25.00
500	27.77	41.66
750	41.66	62.50
Amounts up to $2,500

Quick—Friendly—Liberal

You'll like doing business our friendly bank way. And you can be sure of quick service and liberal treatment always.

JOHN WARNER TALKS ABOUT BALDNESS

In a talk over the radio, John E. Warner, the nation's leading scalp specialist, said: "Take care of your hair while you have it, for baldness is a permanent condition. Nearly every day I am asked to grow hair for someone who has waited too long—and, of course, I have to tell such individuals that I can't help them. To the man who is losing his hair I can, in such cases as I accept, be sure of saving and improving the hair through progressive steps of medication and treatment."

Statistics show that as much as 85% of all baldness is due to local scalp conditions which can be checked and corrected if caught in time. If your hair and scalp show the symptoms of approaching baldness, such as dandruff, itchy scalp and excessive falling hair—you should consult John E. Warner Associates without delay.

WAVELL URGED AS CHURCHILL'S DEFENSE CHIEF

Oust All but 3 Cabinet Aids, Editor Demands.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Formation of a new "win the war government" has been predicted for some time and the Sunday Pictorial today goes so far as to suggest drastic changes which would leave only Prime Minister Winston Churchill, Lord Beaverbrook, minister of supply, and Ernest Bevin, minister of labor, in the present war cabinet.

Gen. A. P. Wavell.

Editor Stewart Campbell proposes the following cabinet under Churchill:

Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell for defense, army, navy, and air.

Lord Beaverbrook for supply, aircraft production, admiralty, transport, shipping, and board of trade [commerce].

Cripps for Foreign Post.

Sir Stafford Cripps [ambassador to Russia] for foreign office, colonies, dominions, India, economic warfare, and propaganda.

Ernest Bevin for labor, home office, and health.

J. M. Keynes for finance, reconstruction, works and buildings, and education.

Emanual Shinwell, Laborite M. P., for agriculture and food.

Praising Gen. Wavell for his campaign in Libya and Lord Beaverbrook for personifying the "drive in the war effort," Campbell admits that Cripps is "an unknown quantity," but says his judgment of Russia was astonishingly correct and credits him with "intellect that shines like a diamond."

Calls Keynes "Man of Tomorrow."

Keynes is favored because he is the father of the compulsory savings schemes and for being the "man of tomorrow."

Bevin is recommended on the judgment that he has made good on his present job which is the most unpopular in the country.

Shinwell is suggested as a member of the executive council because he is the "government's most formidable critic" and "it is doubtful if even Churchill would doubt his ability for ruthlessness and drive."

Edgar Granville, Laborite member of parliament, speaking yesterday, said "it is generally accepted that cabinet changes are imminent." He predicted the shakeup "will affect the minister of supply [Lord Beaverbrook], Viscount Halifax [ambassador to the United States], and the foreign office." Shinwell, also a Laborite M. P., predicted "formation of a new radical coalition looking toward the left."

Generals Meet

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Three Negro generals meet in Chicago to attend opening of club for Negro soldiers. They are (left to right): Brigadier Generals Spencer C. Dickerson, retired; Benjamin O. Davis, and William J. Warfield, retired.

Three Negro generals met yesterday as representatives of the army at the dedication of a service men's center for colored soldiers at the Good Shepherd Community center, 5120 South Park way. Mayor Kelly was principal speaker at the ceremonies which formally opened the service club.

Brig. Gen. Benjamin O. Davis, of the adjutant general's office in Washington, D. C., told the crowd which gathered for the dedication ceremonies that high ranking army officials consider the Chicago service center an important contribution to the morale of the Negro soldiers. Also present were Brig. Gen. Spencer Dickerson, retired, and Brig. Gen. William J. Warfield, retired.

Retreating Japanese Suffer Heavy Loss, Chinese Claim

CHUNGKING, China, Nov. 2 (AP).—Japanese troops in northern Honan province were reported today to be suffering extremely heavy casualties in their retreat from the railway junction city of Chengchow. Chinese dispatches said one Chinese force striking from Chengchow had driven 18 miles to the east and another had gone northwest 15 miles to the Yellow river. An isolated Japanese force was pictured as making a "desperate attempt" to recross the river.

PROVE TO EUROPE BRITAIN CAN WIN WAR, HOARE ASKS

Envoy to Spain Says Many Fear Stalemate.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The peoples of Europe believe the war has reached a stalemate in which neither Britain nor Germany can win, Sir Samuel Hoare, British ambassador to Spain, told an audience today at Reading university, of which he is chancellor.

Sir Samuel Hoare.

"If we are to convince Europe that we cannot be beaten and that we can actually win, we must show by outward and visible acts that we are more than a match for Germany not only on the sea and in the air, but, with the help of our Russian allies and with the aid of the United States, on land as well," he said. "It is not for me to say how or when we can achieve this object. It may take long."

"Tremendous Effort" Required.

Napoleon "tried to impose a new order, namely, uniformity, on Europe by a continental system" and he failed, Hoare stated, but that is no sign Hitler will not be able to do so. Hitler, Hoare added, "will fail only if we make the most tremendous effort, and make it quickly and in time."

Hoare, former foreign and home secretary, fathered the repudiated Hoare-Laval pact giving Mussolini right of way in Italy's conquest of Ethiopia.

Citrine Hails Red Accord.

Sir Walter Citrine, secretary of the British trades union congress, just back from Russia as head of a trades union delegation, expressed belief that the visit would "strengthen the bonds between British and Russian workers in the successful prosecution of the war."

Meanwhile London's Sunday papers protested against activities by the duke of Bedford and other Britons, which, they said, might undermine the war effort or indirectly open a path to some form of negotiated peace.

The Sunday Times was particularly bitter against Bedford, whose article in the current issue of Peace News advises a new test for Hitler, "that of wise, practical, genuine friendliness."

Referring to Minister of Home Security Herbert Morrison's promise that "he has his eye on his grace [the duke]," the Sunday Times reminds readers that it asked "for more power and not less for the government in borderline cases affecting national security."

Warns Others Need Watching.

"In speaking of the duke, we are speaking generically," the editorial states. "There are others like him whose activities require more than a mere eye in this time of extreme national peril."

The Sunday Dispatch prints a personal appeal to Prof. Cyril E. M. Joad, author and British Broadcasting corporation commentator, who is among the signatories of an appeal to Prime Minister Churchill asking him to negotiate with Germany for abolition of night bombings. It insists that "abandonment of night bombings means abandoning our Russian allies," and concludes: "Prof. Joad, don't play Hitler's game."

Promise Heavier Bombings.

The Labor organ, The People, says that the government is giving a definite "no" to humanitarians who want night bombings stopped because the "night raids we will conduct over Germany this winter" will be "much heavier than any bombings that have ever been known."

British authorities, THE TRIBUNE is informed, view the efforts of Bedford and of those advocating abolition of night bombing as especially dangerous now because of an expected German peace offensive, the opening guns of which, some suspect, were sounded by the Turkish president, Ismet Inonu, in Saturday's indirect offer to mediate.

A $10,500.00 quest for the GREAT AMERICAN OPERETTA

Who will write the Great American Operetta?

WHO will win fame and fortune by giving the American scene the attention it deserves and so strikingly lacks in the light operatic repertoire today?

Today there is tremendous mounting interest in the operetta form. This is evidenced by the 318,000 letters which W-G-N received requesting the continuance of its operetta broadcasts this year.

Hundreds of "operetta clubs" are springing up thruout the country. And the current production schedules of the movie makers reflect the rising interest in this form of entertainment.

Last season W-G-N broadcast radio adaptations of twenty-one different well-known operettas. The response from audiences thruout America was instantaneous and amazingly enthusiastic. To date W-G-N's 1941-42 season includes eleven more. W-G-N will schedule others but would like to have them depict life in the American scene.

But there are available all too few operettas which are laid in America. All but four of W-G-N's thirty-two operettas are based on themes depicting life in foreign countries. Why? No other suitable American operettas were available.

At a time when American patriotism runs so high, W-G-N directs the attention of composers and authors to this disparity which presents both a challenge and an opportunity.

As a contribution to the advancement of radio entertainment and to stimulate creative talent to give the American scene the attention it deserves, W-G-N hereby launches a quest for the Great American Operetta—and more American operettas.

Elsewhere on this page, W-G-N sets forth the rules under which it invites composer-authors to submit manuscripts of American operettas in competition for cash awards and other considerations offering even greater monetary return.

Here is an opportunity for composer-authors, budding or arrived, to win acclaim and recognition which can lead to large stage and motion picture revenues and royalties. It is an opportunity open to all on conditions which assure equally fair consideration to the efforts of the newcomer and established writer alike.

This is not just another contest. If this project develops a dozen or more manuscripts of merit, so much the better. W-G-N's determination to serve American interests and American tastes places it in a position to negotiate for and give radio production to all the good American operettas it can find.

If you have an operetta manuscript in your trunk or a tune and an idea in your head, you are invited to read the accompanying rules and learn how you may cash in on it.

$2,500.00 in Cash Prizes for Naming the Great American Operetta!

WHO WILL NAME THE GREAT AMERICAN OPERETTA?

You don't have to know a thing about music in order to take part in this quest for the Great American Operetta, and to win a share of the $10,500.00 which W-G-N will pay.

Shortly before W-G-N's American Operetta series goes on the air, you will be invited to listen to the series, cast your vote for the operetta you like best, and give it a name. For the best names submitted in accordance with rules to be announced later, W-G-N will pay $2,500.00 in cash prizes. Your entry may win! Watch for announcement.

THE RULES

PLEASE READ CAREFULLY

1. THE SPONSOR

W-G-N, Inc., owner and operator of Radio Stations W-G-N and W59C, Chicago, Illinois, herein referred to as the sponsor, announces its intention to broadcast beginning in March, 1942, a series of three one-hour radio adaptations of American Operettas based on manuscripts submitted in accordance with these rules.

2. THE PRIZES

For each of the three original manuscripts selected by the Selections Committee as the best manuscripts for radio adaptation in this series, the sponsor will pay to the composer-authors $1,000.00 in cash on acceptance. In addition, the sponsor will pay an additional $5,000.00 in cash to the composer-author of the manuscript used as the basis of the radio adaptation selected as the Great American Operetta in accordance with Section 7.

3. ELIGIBILITY

Every one, everywhere, except employes of W-G-N, Inc., and members of their families, are invited to submit manuscripts of original operettas based on themes taken from American life during any period in the nation's history. No manuscript of any operetta which has been or will be publicly performed in any manner prior to April 15, 1942, except in connection with this contest, will be accepted. Entrants agree to submit only their own original creations as produced by themselves. Manuscripts shall be submitted in the names of individual persons only. Manuscripts submitted in the names of agents, corporations, publishers, producers, clubs, or societies will not be accepted.

4. REGISTRATION

Every person intending to submit a manuscript is required to register before midnight of January 1, 1942, his intention to do so. Registration does not obligate the prospective entrant to submit a manuscript, but is for the purpose of enabling the sponsor to send the entrant an entry blank to be used in submitting the manuscript. You may register your intention on the accompanying blank or you may supply the same information on a separate sheet of paper

5. HOW TO SUBMIT MANUSCRIPTS

A. Manuscripts shall consist of libretto complete with lyrics and score for voice and piano. Radio adaptations are NOT wanted. The sponsor will make all radio adaptations, so present your manuscript in full, regardless of length or playing time. Note: Composer-authors whose manuscripts are selected as the bases of the three radio adaptations in the American Operetta series shall be required to submit in addition complete orchestrations for voice, chorus, and orchestra.

B. Manuscripts shall be submitted on sheets of paper not exceeding standard sheet music in size. Each manuscript shall be contained in a plain envelope accompanied by an official entry blank, properly filled out, or by a sheet of paper containing the information called for in the entry blank. This entry blank shall be placed in a plain, opaque, sealed envelope and pasted securely to the envelope containing the manuscript. If the manuscript is the original work of more than one person, the name and address of each shall be enclosed, together with instructions as to how, in the event of an award, a check or checks shall be drawn. Such instructions shall state the percentage of interest of each of the persons in the manuscript. You may submit as many manuscripts as you wish, but not more than one manuscript for one operetta shall be contained in the same envelope. An entrant is entitled to receive any number of awards.

C. Envelopes containing manuscripts shall be wrapped, flat, and addressed as follows: "American Operettas, W-G-N, Inc., 445 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois," and forwarded to this address in time for receipt not later than midnight of February 10, 1942. Manuscripts with insufficient postage will be returned by the postoffice. The sponsor does not guarantee the return of any manuscript. All entrants may enclose in the "entry" envelope the stamps necessary for the return of the manuscript. Envelopes containing return postage shall be marked "Return Postage Enclosed." The sponsor, however, cannot assume any responsibility for the safe custody or return of manuscripts beyond that of exercising reasonable care in their handling, wrapping and mailing.

6. ANONYMITY

The name or names of entrants shall not appear anywhere on the manuscript. To guard against misplacement of individual sheets of the manuscript the entrant shall select a working title for his operetta and this title shall appear on every page of libretto and score. All pages of the manuscript shall be numbered in sequence. As manuscripts are received by the sponsor, they will be unwrapped, the wrapping destroyed, and the envelope containing the entry blank will be detached from the envelope containing the manuscript and both envelopes will be stamped with the same serial number.

7. JUDGING

A. The sponsor will appoint a Selections Committee to consider all manuscripts. In addition, the sponsor will invite a prominent motion picture producer, an eminent composer of music, a well-known music publisher, a noted theatrical producer, a well-known radio personality and others to form an Advisory Board to counsel with the Selections Committee in making its decisions. Judgment will be based on subject matter, originality and ingenuity in the handling of libretto and score, and suitability for radio adaptations in the American Operetta series.

B. The sealed envelopes containing the entry blanks shall be opened only after the Selections Committee has chosen all three manuscripts for use as outlined in Section 1.

C. The winner of the $5,000.00 which the sponsor will pay to the composer-author of the manuscript used as the basis of the radio presentation which is selected as the Great American Operetta will be determined as follows: Prior to the initial broadcast in the series of the three prize winning operettas, the sponsor will announce a public participation contest in which the radio audience will be invited to listen to the series and to submit a name for the Great American Operetta, in competition for $2,500.00 in cash prizes which the sponsor will pay for the best entries submitted in accordance with rules to be announced later. In submitting entries the pubic will be invited to vote for and give a name to the presentation in the series of three prize winning operettas which it considers best qualified as the Great American Operetta and to tell why. The presentation which receives the most votes from entrants in the public participation contest will be declared the winner of $5,000 00. In the case of ties, duplicate prizes will be awarded to tying contestants.

D. The making of radio adaptations of the three operettas, and the casting, production, and presentation of said radio adaptations shall be solely within the judgment and control of the sponsor, and no entrant shall have any right to complain with respect thereto.

8. RIGHTS

A. Sponsor only desires to acquire the exclusive right to perform by radio broadcasting and television the three operettas winning $1,000 prizes, but sponsor must control all other rights in said operettas for a period of two years, in order to insure their proper promotion and to prevent any use which might prejudice or interfere with sponsor's radio broadcasting and television performing rights. Accordingly, each of said three operettas, including the title, plot, book, music, and lyrics, will become the property of the sponsor upon the payment of said $1,000, and the sponsor shall have all rights of a proprietor therein, including the right to copyright such operetta or any part thereof in the sponsor's name. Two years after the date of such payment, however, sponsor will, at the written request of the composer-author(s), grant back to the composer-author(s), by appropriate assignment or license, all rights in said operetta, except said radio broadcasting and television performing rights, subject only to grants previously made by sponsor as hereinafter provided. If during said two-year period sponsor shall deem it desirable to license, for the term of the copyright or any shorter term, any stage or motion-picture production of the operetta or any adaptation thereof or to permit it to be published in whole or in part, the sponsor may do so on such terms as it deems advisable, with or without consultation with the composer-author(s), but the sponsor will pay over to the composer-author(s) all of sponsor's receipts therefrom, after the deduction of sponsor's reasonable expenses in conducting negotiations for such licensing or permission.

B. Each entrant, in submitting an operetta, warrants that such operetta is his or their sole, exclusive and original work and that no part of such operetta infringes existing rights in any other work whatsoever and each entrant agrees to protect and indemnify the sponsor against any claims with respect to such operetta or the performance of the whole or any part thereof.

9. PUBLICITY

The names of the composer-authors whose manuscripts are selected as the three prize winning manuscripts from which radio adaptations will be made for the W-G-N series of American Operetta broadcasts will be made public as soon as the Selections Committee has made its decisions. The sponsor will not, however, announce which operetta was submitted by a particular composer-author prize winner until after the conclusion of the public participation contest. Payment of the $5,000.00 award will be made with appropriate ceremony in the studio on the night of the rebroadcast of the operetta selected as the Great American Operetta in the public participation contest. This rebroadcast will be made as soon as possible after the result of the public participation contest has been determined. The sponsor reserves the right to publicize the names of all persons from whom it receives registrations.

FORT SHERIDAN MILITARY SHOW ATTRACTS 20,000

Soldiers Demonstrate Modern Weapons.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

More than 20,000 persons thronged Fort Sheridan yesterday afternoon and last night to see what they are getting for their rearmament dollars. They had a good look at the American soldier of 1941 and his equipment in the largest military show of its kind ever given in the middle west.

Both shows were equally well attended. Sponsors of the army relief program, which benefited from the 50 cent admission charge, were grateful for good weather because rain had caused cancelation of the first two days of the show.

Night Show Colorful.

The night audience obtained the more spectacular view. Lattice and fan patterns were woven in the sky by 23 giant searchligths. After a symphonic light display by the use of colored screens, the searchlights reverted to their utilitarian purpose by picking up and following a training plane which twisted and dove in vain efforts to escape the beam.

The shows emphasized development of self-sufficiency of the artillery to meet the variety of attacks of modern warfare.

Where the coast artillery formerly had a narrow range of duties, it now is expected to combat planes, tanks, and parachutists. Methods of defending motorized columns on the road and beating off attacks by tanks and planes were demonstrated.

Fire at Sleeve Targets.

The 3 inch anti-aircraft guns and 37 mm. automatic canonn roared only into space, but the .50 caliber machine guns shredded sleeve targets towed by planes. The 3 inch gun is the largest anti-aircraft weapon in use with the exception of a 90 mm. model at Fort Monroe, Va.

The 3 inch guns can fire 25 to 30 shells a minute more than five miles into the air. They weigh more than seven tons and are towed by prime movers. Trained crews of seven men can remove the piece from its mobile position and set it up ready for firing in less than three minutes.

The 37 mm. guns, weighing 2½ tons, cover the intermediate zone in the sky not blanketed by fire of the machine guns or the 3 inch gun. It fires at the rate of 120 shots a minute, hurling an 18 ounce tracer and explosive projectile about two miles into the air. After a burst of 80 to 100 rounds the barrel is cooled with water. This halts firing for about three minutes.

Grenade Versus Tank.

Included in the demonstration at the firing point on the lake front was an incendiary hand grenade for use against tanks. No tank being available, the missile was hurled at a wooden barricade screening a truck which simulated the tank.

Infantry from Fort Custer, Mich., fired 81 mm. mortars and machine guns, and the 19th field artillery from the same post blazed away at a target anchored in the lake with the remodeled World war 75 mm. gun.

Economy in the use of ammunition was practised. The afternoon firing was held to a minimum considering the number of weapons involved and the scheduled grand finale of having all guns fired at once was called off.

Coast Artillery Reviewed.

Earlier in the shows the crowds saw reviews of the 40th coast artillery [anti-aircraft] brigade, comprised of the 40th brigade headquarters battery, the 61st, 210th, and 103d coast artillery, and 81st quartermaster battalion, Company B.

Cheers were given to the recruit training detachment made up of 65 soldiers who just have completed four weeks of basic training, and 65 who have just finished eight weeks. They performed intricate close order drill, bayonet exercises, and the manual of arms.

ENDS LIFE WITH GUN.

Kurt Piesse, 59 years old, 2653 Mildred avenue, was found shot yesterday in a bedroom of his home, a gun at his side. He died an hour later in St. Joseph's hospital.

Dancer Quizzed

COLLEEN HAMILTON.

Miss Colleen Hamilton, 24 years old, a dancer in a Rush street night club, was held at the Central police station lockup last night while authorities investigated the manner in which Miss Sally Bennett, 31, a singer at the night club, was seriously injured.

Miss Bennett was taken to Columbus Memorial hospital earlier in the day after she fell or was shoved out of a moving taxicab in front of 2045 Lincoln Park West as she and Miss Hamilton were returning to their home at 4951 North Wolcott avenue.

Arthur Dickerson, 30, of 1142 Montana street, the cab driver, told police he heard the women quarreling and then heard the door of his cab open. He stopped and found Miss Bennett on the pavement. Miss Hamilton denied there had been a quarrel. She said she didn't know what happened.

Five Companies Contribute $19,500 to Charity Fund

Contributions from five companies brought the 1941 Community Fund campaign $19,500 nearer its goal of $3,583,000 yesterday, Bryan S. Reid, chairman of the sponsors division, announced.

The largest gift was $16,500 from the Walgreen company. The $3,000 included $1,500 from the executive offices of the Sinclair Refining company and $500 each from the Studebaker Sales company, the Elgin National Watch company, and the Chicago Motor club.

MACKENZIE KING SILENT ON TALKS WITH ROOSEVELT

Leaves for Ottawa After Hyde Park Visit.

(Picture on back page.)

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King of Canada ended two days of conferring with President Roosevelt here tonight and boarded a train for Ottawa for the opening of the Canadian parliament tomorrow.

As he stepped into his private car, the short, jovial Canadian official characterized his meetings on Canadian-American strategic and economic problems as "restful, profitable, and happy." He refused, however, to give any inkling to details of the conferences.

Three times in answer to specific questions, he said that he was not carrying a message from the President to the dominion parliament. He insisted that his visit was "purely personal," as he had announced on his arrival early yesterday.

Silent After Conferences.

The temporary White House also was silent on the conferences. Late in the afternoon it was reported that the prime minister and President would issue a joint statement tonight. Later, however, William D. Hassett, acting White House secretary, said there would be none.

On each of two previous meetings the President and the prime minister issued joint statements. At Ogdensburg, N. Y., in the summer of 1940, they effected what has been considered an unwritten alliance on defense and at Hyde Park last May they arrived at an agreement under which the United States is to pay between 200 and 300 million dollars for Canadian war supplies which this country is turning over to Britain.

Report Credits Discussed.

It was reported that extention of further credits was one of the matters under discussion during the last two days. Mackenize King's attitude as he left was construed by some as indicating he was not altogether satisfied with what assurances he may have received on this score.

Canada was asking, it was understood, further steps to make dollar exchange available to the dominion. It was opposing lend-lease aid, it was reported, which had been suggested in some American quarters, as a means of aid to Canada. Other subjects believed to have been discussed were Canadian price control legislation and correlation of Canadian-American naval and defense coöperation.

Attend Church with Guests.

Earlier in the day the President bowed his head in prayer for peace and guidance under the rafters of the 117 year old Dutch Reformed church in his native village. On either side of him were his guests, Premier Mackenzie King and Crown Princess Juliana of the Netherlands. Mrs. Roosevelt also shared the pew.

The President, who is senior warden of neighboring St. James Episcopal church, took his guests to the Dutch Reformed church in deference to the princess.

HOUSE PAINTER FOUND SHOT.

Kurt Piesse, 59 years old, a house painter, was found critically wounded yesterday in his home at 2653 Mildred avenue. Police were trying to determine whether he shot himself accidentally. His wife found an automatic pistol beside him.

ARKANSAS FLOOD BREAKS LEVEES; HOMES PERILED

Fort Smith, Ark., Nov. 2 (AP).—The flooding Arkansas river reached a crest of 37.3 feet here late today and stopped rising indicating a fall would start during the night.

The crest was two-tenths of a foot under the predicted high water mark and with three levees south of here already broken or topped, fair skies contributed to a feeling in official circles that a disaster could be averted.

Maj. J. R. Grume of the Little Rock district, United States Engineers, said the fight to hold a number of small levees between Russellville and Little Rock woud be "nip and tuck."

At Fort Smith the 60 block furniture factory district was inundated and four of the large companies evacuated. Seepage spread to 50 blocks of a residence area and was running two to six feet deep around homes.

HUNDREDS OF RAF PLANES SHATTER KIEL AND BREST

Freight Trains Attacked in France.

LONDON, Nov. 2 (AP).—The RAF continued its grand offensive against Germany and German-controlled shipping with hundreds of planes today.

RAF bombing attacks were reported by the air ministry against the German naval base at Kiel, other northwest German objectives, the docks of Brest, Le Havre and St. Nazaire, and shipping along the occupied coast.

The latest action was a strafing-bombing of freight trains in a daylight sweep over northern France.

"On the first burst from the guns great columns of smoke shot into the air and billowed up to 4,000 feet," said the air ministry news service.

"It was so thick that it became impossible for the pilots to see what was going on below but they knew they left holes in three engines with steam pouring from them."

The air ministry said the RAF had sunk or seriously damaged at least 20 ships in three days of attacks against German convoys.

Only Four Bombers Lost.

British sources were elated over the fact that only four bombers were lost in the raiding over Germany despite the fact that "strong forces"—meaning hundreds of planes—were used in the attacks.

Despite the continued bad weather bombers were said to have hit two large ships in a convoy off the Frisian islands, blowing one up and setting the other afire.

Another plane made a torpedo attack on a large ship off La Pallice, France, a communique said, and other bombers attacked a supply ship off the Dutch coast.

Naples, Palermo Attacked.

Still other heavy bombers were said to have left a freighter in the Mediterranean billowing black and white smoke from her stern after six hits made during a midnight attack.

Another smashing assault upon Naples, Italy's most bombed city, and the Sicilian port of Palermo was announced by the air ministry, which said the Italian cities were attacked for more than six hours. A previously bombed torpedo factory was reported hit again along with an air frame factory and a railway station.

Power stations, a drydock, and moles at Palermo were severely battered, the air ministry added.

Axis Planes Raid Cairo.

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 2 (AP).—Axis planes raided the Cairo zone last night, causing slight damage and no casualties, according to the official announcement, which said that a few bombs were dropped in the suburbs.

Heavy week-end air raids that set off tremendous fires and explosions among axis bases in North Africa were reported by the British middle east command. Bengazi and Derna were blasted yesterday and the Berca and El Gazala airdromes were targets of night raiders Friday.

Another attack on Licata, Sicily, was made Friday and returning pilots told of direct hits on a factory.

Ship Sinkings Reduced.

BERLIN, Nov. 2 (AP).—German sinking of British merchant shipping during October showed a marked decline from September, according to comparative figures compiled by the German high command. The October toll was given today as 441,300 gross tons, against 683,400 tons for September.

Destruction by German submarines dropped from a reported 452,000 tons in September to 255,200 tons in October.

The British loss in food commodities, raw material and other cargo in October was estimated at 600,000 tons. Hitler's newspaper Voelkischer Beobachter said this amounted to enough to fill 700 freight trains.

The Berlin press emphasized the reported sinking of five destroyers and three other protective vessels in October as "indicative of the rigorous way in which our boats approach convoys, which are better protected than ever."

Voelkischer Beobachter placed total British merchant ship sinkings since the war's start at "virtually 14,250,000 tons" and said these figures were recognized at Washington.

German fighter planes attacked "important supply harbors" on the west coast of England last night, the high command's daily communique said.

The British dropped explosive and incendiary bombs on a number of communities in northwest Germany last night, it was stated, and three British bombers were shot down.

DNB said Birkenhead and Cardiff were attacked. Fires were caused in Birkenhead and docks and factories were bombed at Cardiff, the agency reported.

DNB also said German bombers sank a 6,000 ton freighter in the Suez roadstead last night and broke up a concentration of British motorized equipment near Salum, Egypt.

4,000 AT RITE HAIL MEMORY OF PADEREWSKI

Hear Stritch and Polish Statesmen.

Four thousand persons listened last night as Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch and Polish statesmen paid tribute to the memory of the late Ignace Jan Paderewski, pianist and Polish patriot, during a memorial service in the Chicago Opera house.

Archbishop Stritch praised Paderewski as a statesman who strove to preserve the freedoms of western civilization at a time when they were threatened.

"Work of Pygmy Minds."

"Paderewski had nothing but scorn for governments built on the sands of atheism and absolutistic rule," Archbishop Stritch said. "He saw in these things the work of pygmy minds."

Francis X. Swietlik, president of the Polish American council, which sponsored the service, told the audience that the United States has offered to give Paderewski's remains temporary burial in Arlington National cemetery until they can be removed to Poland.

Gen. Bronislaw Duch, commander of the Polish forces in Canada, in paying tribute to his countrymen, said that despite the losses of the Polish people, their morale remained unshaken. He expressed a belief that the military position of Great Britain and her allies has improved recently.

Other Addresses.

The meeting also was addressed by Jan Ciechanowski, ambassador of the exiled Polish government to the United States; Jan Stanczyk, minister of labor and social welfare, and Hugh Gibson, former American ambassador to Poland.

At the conclusion of the service a projection in color of "The Music Master," with which Joseph Parrish, Tribune cartoonist, commemorated the death of Paderewski, was thrown on a screen while the Filareci-Dudziarz Choral society sang the Polish national anthem, "Poland Is Not Yet Lost."

QUOTING ABRAHAM LINCOLN

A Political Edifice.

Theirs [our ancestors'] was the task and nobly they performed it to possess themselves, and thru themselves us, of this goodly land, and to uprear upon its hills and its valleys a political edifice of liberty and equal rights; 'tis ours only to transmit these—the former unprofaned by the foot of an invader, the latter undecayed by the lapse of time and untorn by usurpation—to the latest generation that fate shall permit the world to know.

A. Lincoln

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 27, 1837.

THE TWO MEN IN THE WHITE HOUSE.

Mr. Roosevelt in his three terms, the third of which was his defiance of the American tradition against tenure which might mean dictatorship, has denounced many elements of citizenship in the United States. That has been his political stock in trade.

He has denounced the selfish few, altho a few selfish have taken more than a tenancy with him under the White House roof. He has denounced economic royalists and Tories, altho he descends from a Tory family, and altho the residence of the Chief Executive never before beheld such an in and out movement of politically busted but personally solvent kinglet refugees from countries deserted by them to the terrors of conquest and starvation.

No other man in this high position has treated so lightly the inseparable responsibilities of his position or been so little regardful of the moral value of his spoken and written word.

No other President ever undertook to raise class hatreds where none had existed and to use them for his political advantage. But, notwithstanding all this, Mr. Roosevelt has denounced no other person in his strategy of abuse one-half as much as he has denounced himself.

The man who speaks for freedom of the seas is the man who denounced the reliance on that doctrine as Mr. Wilson's crime against American peace. The man who wrote the present neutrality law is the man who now denounces it as if it were something forced upon him by his disloyal opposition and was the greatest folly of the age. The law is his.

The man who said that convoys meant shooting and that shooting meant war has ordered American warships to convoy vessels and has had two American destroyers torpedoed. The man who at Chautauqua said that peace depended upon the successful efforts of the men in the offices of the Chief Executive and of the secretary of state to avoid the day by day incidents which would lead to war is the man who has contributed those day by day incidents with an ingenuity which must have occupied his waking hours and some of his dreams.

The man who said that the proposal to liquidate some of the debts of Europe to the United States by taking over essential defense islands was a silly proposal is the man who startled the United States senate by telling it that he had acquired these possessions without its advice and consent to the necessary treaties and agreements. He is the man who promised the American people that their soldiers would not be sent into foreign wars and then announced that American troops were in Iceland.

Mr. Roosevelt denounces Mr. Roosevelt every month. There are two persons under one hat. They seem to be violent in their opposition to each other, but the hat knows better. It knows that the one person seeks to gain the confidence of the American people. The other then uses it for purposes the other had denounced.

If the two men in the White House are on speaking terms it is a miracle of private tolerance between public adversaries.

THE TRUTH IS A DEFENSE.

A New York appellate court has just confirmed the criminal libel sentences against Clarence Hathaway, former managing editor of the Daily Worker, and the publishers of this communist organ, arising from the Daily Worker's attack on Walter W. Liggett, the murdered Minneapolis editor, and his widow. The defendants were fined $500 each and Hathaway was sentenced to jail for a month in addition.

Liggett was conducting a crusade against the alliance of gangsters and radicals who dominated the Farmer-Labor party in Minnesota under the administration of the late Gov. Floyd Olson. He was murdered by machine gunners on Dec. 9, 1935, a few days before he was to have appeared before a committee of the Minnesota senate to submit evidence which he said he had of connections between the radical Olson machine and the Minneapolis underworld. The boss hoodlum of that city was charged with the murder. The trial was conducted by the members of the political machine Liggett was fighting.

The Daily Worker adopted the familiar communist tactics of attempting to smear the reputation of the man who had thrown light on the gang connections of the communists and their fellow travelers in Minnesota. In the libel suit the newspaper and its editor were required, on the witness stand in a Criminal court, to prove what they charged. The guilty verdict in effect convicted them of publishing falsehoods.

The communist defendants were granted every safeguard provided by the form of government that they are trying to destroy in this country. The trial court, for instance, was bound by law to consider what the communists said under oath to be the truth unless disproved by internal contradictions or other testimony. Our courts take no cognizance of the fact that perjury is a tool justified by communist doctrine, a fact that would justify a rule of evidence that a communist witness should be considered a congenital liar in the absence of overwhelming proof to the contrary.

The Daily Worker and its editor told a lie and were punished for it. No special statute, no censorship, was necessary to punish them—only the law of libel under which every American publication operates.

THEIR SMILING FRIEND.

Senator Brooks' great speech on the neutrality bill amendments introduced a note which until then had not been sounded in the debate. He reminded his colleagues that war is not a pageant. It is the business of killing and maiming.

Approve these amendments, he said, "and out there in foreign waters and over there on foreign land the numbers will constantly increase of the American men who will die, of the American men who will lose their minds, of men who will move thru life with their eyes gone, with their arms gone, with their legs gone—the crippled and maimed of another foreign war. . . . No doubt you will appropriate money for their hospitals, but you won't be their friend. Only death will be their friend—death will be their smiling friend."

Mr. Brooks is the most eloquent speaker in the senate, but never before has he made such an impression as he achieved in this debate. The reason is the obvious one that his own memories, his own knowledge and experience, were distilled in that address. As a boy Brooks enlisted in the marines, an idealistic boy, eager for adventure, eager to test himself in battle. He acquitted himself with the greatest distinction and all but lost his life in his country's service. He knows war. He knows war hospitals. He carries the scars of a dozen wounds today. When he said "only death will be their friend, death will be their smiling friend" he was voicing the agony that he himself knew and that he read on the faces of scores of others who fell.

Previous speakers, favoring the steps which will inevitably lead another American expeditionary force to Europe, had sought to whip up the war spirit. They didn't know what they were talking about, but they had a lot of fun giving voice to their hatreds and their expectations of an easy and glorious victory.

It is a lot of fun to make fighting speeches. It is a lot of fun to fight for freedom in artistic drawing rooms and listen to the condescending approval of English noblemen. To those who do the manipulating, it is a lot of fun to disrupt the economic organization of the country by means of arbitrary and lawless regulations. The greatest fun of all is to entertain royalty at the White House, on the Presidential yacht, and at Hyde Park.

But, as Mr. Brooks knows and as everybody else knows who saw what he saw, all this fun exacts a hideous price. Those who have the fun don't pay the price. That detail is reserved for the conscripts and their families. It was of them and for them that Mr. Brooks was speaking. His eloquence will never serve a nobler cause.

NOT A YES-BUT WORD.

A reader suggests that the University of Chicago lexicographers who are trying to discover the origin of "O. K." need look no farther than the language of the Choctaw Indians. When the Choctaw language was first written in Roman characters in 1842, the word was spelled "okeh" or "hoke," subsequently compressed in the language of Broadway and Hollywood to "oke."

The words denoting assent, agreement, or approval are "yes," "yea," "aye, aye," "right," "righto," "all right," and sometimes "sure." They are not so numerous that there is no room in general usage for another good native word as forceful as a Choctaw's ax and as broad as the prairies.

The purists may shudder, as usual, but the rest of us will see that "O. K." has its uses in helping make the language both elastic and expressive. "O. K." has more force in indicating agreement or approval than a simple "yes." It cannot, of course, imply intent. If somebody asks, "Are you going downtown?" you don't answer, "O. K." Brides, when catechized as to whether they will love, honor, and obey, do not customarily respond, "O. K." If they did, the bridegroom might feel that the little woman was being much too casual and perhaps a touch tolerant or patronizing. The bride is expected to return a forthright "I do." As a rule, at this early stage in the partnership, she is not too reluctant to oblige. The change may come later.

"O. K." can be given many shades of meaning, depending on intonation and the circumstances. If we are interested in adding mobility, forcefulness, and a native tang to American English, we should have no qualms about accepting it into good standing. Is this O. K. by you?

WESTWARD PASSAGE.

War risk insurance rates on shipments from the British Isles to this country have been reduced from 10 to 7½ per cent of cargo value. The German air force is extensively engaged in Russia and the British west coast ports are not being pounded as heavily as they were earlier. Besides, the U-boats aren't as interested in ships and cargoes going west as they are in those coming east.

The war risk rate on shipments from the United States to Great Britain still stands at 10 per cent. The risk is 1 in 10 that a ship bound for the British Isles will be sunk. It is 1 in 14 that a ship leaving Britain will go to the bottom.

The Germans are naturally concerned about lend-lease armaments and supplies coming to Britain. They are less concerned about British woolens and shoes and Scotch whisky going to the United States to be sold for dollar credits. The insurance firms are betting that it is more probable that American wealth will go to Davy Jones' locker. The war minded men who are sending the American navy into the danger zones are making the same bet on the lives of young Americans.

PENSACOLA'S SAD EXPERIENCE.

[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

Commenting on a recent Post-Dispatch editorial noting the wide variance in milk prices over the country, the Pensacola [Fla.] Journal presents some interesting information about its own city's experience. The state milk board recently approved an increase in Pensacola from 15 to 17 cents a quart, making its rate among the highest in the United States. Dairy men had called for the increase because, they said, prices of feed, labor, and other factors had gone up. At the same time the demand for pasteurized milk had shot sharply upward. "Whether a rise of 2 cents was justified may be debatable," the Journal says, and then adds:

> Like most public hearings on such questions, there was no one to represent the public, the consumer's side was undeveloped and those who must pay for the rise lost by default.

In St. Louis, of course, the increase of 2 cents within two months was imposed by the dairies without public hearings. The Pensacola comments emphasize the need for consumers to be on the alert for organizations which will go to the front vigorously in defense of the public's interests.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat. Office

MR. PEPYS AMUSES HIMSELF.

3d Nov.—Took my football by radio again last Saturday and thought it is a shame there cannot be a college game in this city every Saturday during the season, for that is my day to enjoy the fresh air. But the fault is not so much with the schools that have abandoned the game as with the bandwagon-chasing public, which neglects losers. Yet it is great fun being a partisan for an underdog, and the joy that comes once in a while when he gets on top is high indeed.

Went to the Art institute one day last week to see the opening of an annual exhibition, but arrived late, when all the tea had been drunk up. As I strolled about the galleries, glancing here and there with the air of a connoisseur, I was approached by a lady who asked, "Are you one of the judges?" and when I denied this she said, "Are you the director of the museum?" at which I was flattered, and thought my art gallery manner was a complete success.

Then she continued, "If you are, I want to say the biggest prize award was utter nonsense, for that painting is nothing but a dreary smudge of grays." I answered, "Lady, I had nothing to do with it, and know nothing about art except that this painting near us is a portrait of an actress named Katharine Hepburn, altho it is hard to recognize, for Heppy usually wears slacks."

"Anyway, it looks like her," the lady remarked, but I said to myself, "It also looks like Miss Georgiana Podsnap, a character in a Dickens novel who was nearly half-witted."

Went to the public library, too, to see an exhibition of old playbills from the collection of my contributor, Max of the Second Gallery, whose right name is Max Maier. Became right sentimental over the program of a drama called "Letty," which contained the first actress I ever knew, and her name was Carlotta Nilsson, which means little now but meant much to me then.

UNREQUITED LOVE.

Begone, thou temptress, draw thy garish gown
About thee and depart! Let others sing
Who will thy praise and clasp those fading charms;
They tempt not me.

For somewhere in the north
My only love these many months has dwelt,
And now she comes. No garish gown, no cheek
Of scarlet, hers; she does not walk the streets
In cheap array or flaunt her wondrous charms.
But in the somber hues of cold gray dawns
And melancholy days, with features pale
And tresses darker than the darkest night,
She comes. Then I shall pledge my love anew,
Tho cold and passionless be her embrace,
And all her kisses be the kiss of death!

O, I shall pledge my love to her anew,
Tho in my heart I know that not for me
She dons her evening robe of moon-swept snow
And broods alone among the silent fields.

Party Girl Observes Book Week.

"Thanks for letting me borrow your book, darling. I do try to be intellectual at least once a year."

"O, I hope you enjoyed it as much as I did," I said. "But weren't you surprised at the ending?"

She squirmed for a minute and then admitted: "I didn't finish it."

"You didn't . . . ?"

"Books nowadays are so heavy they ought to be sold by the pound," she cried defensively. "Why, I was exhausted after a few chapters just trying to hold it. So I decided to wait until it was made into a movie."

"But how can you restrain your curiosity so long without knowing the ending? Didn't you even read the last few pages?"

"My dear," she exclaimed, "I wouldn't dream of doing such a thing. Why, that's positively unethical. I may not be intellectual, but I don't cheat."

And as she made up her face preparatory to leaving, she added a parting shot: "Reading is all very well for you, darling . . . you're married. But a girl like me has to be careful of her eyes. Where do you think I'd get with bifocals?"

Ancient Prophecy About the Line Book.

It won't be long now until the Line Book, like the breaking of dawn thru a clear sky, will burst upon an expectant world, to be carried on the wings of the morning to all parts where lovers of good reading are to be found.

In Psalms xix., 4, we find a passage which can be easily interpreted as a prophecy of the Line Book:

"Their line is gone out to all the earth, and their words to the end of the world."

William Owen.

AUTUMN GOING OUT.

Crescent, the moon in a deepened sky;
Frosty, the clean, crisp air;
Empty, the trees when the wind goes by Biting the limbs so bare.

Quartered, the seasons that pass away
Into a time of cold;
Crickets forgetting their roundelay;
Autumn is getting old.

Drama in a Lake Front Tent.

A memorable event in theatrical history for many Chicagoans was the appearance of the famous "Bernhardt tent" in the lake front park, opposite the Auditorium hotel, Thursday, April 26, 1906. The occasion was the San Francisco earthquake sufferers' relief fund benefit.

The bill contained such names as Julia Marlowe, E. H. Sothern, Robert Loraine, Mrs. Leslie Carter, E. S. Willard, Trixie Friganza, and Richard Carle. Marlowe and Sothern gave an act from "The Taming of the Shrew," Robert Loraine an act from "Man and Superman," and Bernhardt offered her interpretation of the dying Camille.

The program included excerpts from "The College Widow," "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," "Buster Brown," and "The Umpire," while headliners from the Majestic, Olympic, and Haymarket theaters gave specialties between changes of scene.

THE HEART THAT RUNS AWAY.

A TYPE of heart disease, which was recognized during World war, will certainly appear again if American forces become engaged with an enemy. For the last twenty years or more the condition has been termed "soldier's heart" or "neurocirculatory asthenia."

This disorder was observed during the Civil war but it was not until some time after Appomattox that a Philadelphia physician, DeCosta, spotted the ailment as a real disease—with far reaching effects.

The trouble is functional—not organic. Nevertheless it is disabling. Those who are afflicted severely may well be discharged from the army or assigned to duties wherein physical strain is entirely absent.

What are the symptoms? With the patient at rest, the pulse is feeble. But on the slightest exertion the rate jumps to 100 or more per minute. In certain cases the speed will reach the stage of palpitation. A few will respond in this fashion on a short march. Carrying complete equipment, a victim who sets out on a long trek may collapse at the end of a mile or two.

All this, despite the fact that there is no valvular lesion, no leak, no murmur, and no enlargement. The "pump" behaves as tho it were completely worn out. In consequence it becomes irritable at the first sign of an overload.

Examining physicians attached to draft boards have an enormous responsibility. First, they must not be deluded by the evidence of nervousness manifested by the one who wishes to escape the call. On the other hand, they should not pass those with cardiac organs which will inevitably break down under training. Before the candidate is examined he should lie down for approximately thirty minutes in a quiet room and under conditions which will inspire full coöperation and confidence.

A rule that has been followed is that a pulse of 100 or over—which persists at that level—is abnormal. At the same time, we realize that alcohol, excessive smoking, etc., may predispose to a rapid rhythm. Many of these individuals will calm down after a brief period of relaxation. A movie thriller or even a radio skit may boost the beat 10 to 30 points. This, as we know, is purely an emotional response.

Economy dictates that all unfavorable reactors shall be detected before a large expenditure of time, effort, and money has proved the draftee to be unfit. Occasionally, a careful study of the blood pressure will add much information which can be used as a determining factor. Many can be saved with a fair amount of repose and a change of environment. Others, however, should be sent home. They will never make satisfactory soldiers.

It goes without saying that physical efficiency determines the character of an army. As a people, we take far less exercise than we should. We are much too accustomed to ease and comfort. In consequence, many of our young men, on participating in the games of war, will fail to measure up to the demands.

Some of our lads have perhaps unwittingly injured the machinery of the circulation. It may not be bad enough to interfere with the routine of military life. But when hard work is required of the apparatus, it will fail to meet expectations. We can prevent the waste of millions of hours of training by more punctilious selection before the real test arrives.

Mild cases will respond to the cultivation of mental equanimity. Associated with mental hygiene, a system of graduated exercise should prove helpful. Short walks at first, increasing the distance by degrees, is the plan recommended. But nothing can be done for the chap whose heart goes out of control and figuratively runs away.

NERVOUS ORIGIN.

T. C. writes: During the last three years I have had my heart examined six times. Each doctor told me it is all right. However, every once in a while I experience a fluttering, smothering sensation that lasts for a few seconds. Thereafter the rhythm becomes normal. Do you consider these spells significant?

REPLY.

The antics of your pumping organ are probably functional. This means that there is no organic disease whatsoever. Irregularities, such as you describe, may come occasionally when you are overtired, nervous, or excited. They may be likened to trembling which may appear when one is called upon suddenly to speak in public.

ANEMIA AND ACTIVITY.

C. W. writes: I have secondary anemia and take weekly liver shots. I work in an office during the day and have two or three social engagements a week. Would it be better if I had more rest and reduced my activities?

REPLY.

You can do a lot of flitting about after your anemia is on the run. Obtain more rest.

INVALID DIET.

M. C. writes: Besides liquids, what foods can be served to a person home in bed with a severe cold?

REPLY.

Not much nourishment is needed while the patient is inactive. If hunger is present, what is known as a light diet is advisable. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for sample menus.

ACUTE VS. CHRONIC.

L. P. writes: How long is a disease considered acute?

REPLY.

For the period of pain, fever, helplessness, or other bothersome symptoms. Maladies become chronic whenever we try to rush recovery. Give nature plenty of time.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Space for letters is obviously limited. Incoming mail far exceeds it. If a letter is not printed, attribute it to lack of room. Address letters to Voice of the People, The Tribune.

THE GREER AND THE KEARNY.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 30.—Why didn't President Roosevelt, in his "shoot on sight" speech and in his Navy day speech disclose the circumstances of the firing upon the American ships Greer and Kearny? It has been reported as coming from the navy department that the Greer, acting in coördination with a British airplane, was in actual pursuit of the German submarine before that vessel "attacked" her.

It has been reported as coming from the same department that the Kearny had actually dropped depth bombs before torpedoes were launched against her. The President has not even denied, let alone disproved, these disclosures.

To say that such circumstances are relevant is an understatement. If Mr. Roosevelt spoke with knowledge he told an intentional falsehood; if he spoke before ascertaining the facts he is guilty of culpable negligence. I hope the latter is the case. INQUISITIVE.

FREE CHURCH IN GERMANY

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Permit me, an official visitor of the Northern Illinois district of the Lutheran Missouri Synod, to quote without comment from the synod's chapter on European Missions [1941], pages 28-30:

"The Evangelical Lutheran Free church of Saxony, Germany, was organized in 1876" [by the Lutheran Missouri Synod].

[Situation in 1941]: "The Free church in Germany is represented in 769 communities and has 188 preaching stations, 43 pastors, 12,430 souls, 8,164 communicant members.

"The Lord held His protecting hand over His servants in Germany. Until now not one of them was injured. Until now our Christians can meet for their usual services. There is none to molest them."

SLUMS IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Chicago should be ashamed of the housing conditions in its city limits. At least one-third of our fair city is covered with slums. A visitor to Chicago raves about its beauty, but this visitor sees only Chicago's front. What about the back section of this city?

If some of our noble politicians would clean up Chicago's back yards instead of only worrying about her face this would be a better city in which to live.

WATER TOWER DESERVES A REST.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Just a few months ago a lot of new concrete was laid around the Chicago avenue water works tower. A bunch of workmen is now engaged in blasting this all out.

Does any one know what they are doing to the little park now? Just as soon as they get it looking half way decent, it is torn up and changed around.

HELEN PATTERSON.

A POSTMISTRESS? NO.

Petersburg, Ill., Oct. 30.—Some 10 or 12 days ago you had an article stating: "A certain woman had been postmistress a long term of years."

I have yet to find the word postmistress in any dictionary. The head of any postoffice is master of it; hence postmaster is the correct word.

TERMS OF WILL.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Is it permissible to probate a will before the maker dies, specifying amount going to heirs?

2. A brother worth half a million made such a will giving one dollar to each parent and sister. He owns a dozen houses, has three automobiles and has appraised his estate at $40,000 but owns several apartment buildings any of which is worth more than double that.

3. Can the appraisal be disputed? The probated will maker is still around and in good health. N. B.

1. No.

2. This would not invalidate the will. It would be necessary to prove undue influence or lack of testamentary capacity.

3. For what purpose? The inheritance tax would not be controled by the value that be assigns, if that is what you mean to ask. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

FROM A SWITCHMAN'S WIFE.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—In reply to the letter, "Good-by to the Railroads": I come from a long line of railway people, my father, brothers, brothers-in-law, and my husband all having been or are now in that industry, having worked themselves up the hard way. So when I tell you railroad men, as a whole, are the most underpaid workmen of today I know what I am talking about. They are out in all kind of weather, doing hard, dangerous work, come and go at such irregular hours that neither they nor their families live normal lives. Their insurance rates are much higher than most. Now with food, clothing, rents, and every necessity of life going up and up and every other line of workmen getting their wages raised, railroad men have not had or asked for a raise since 1925.

The five brotherhoods have always been loyal Americans, ready to help their country or any one who was down and out. I think the writer of the letter in question is either an office man or an official who knows nothing about the working railroad men's problems.

A SWITCHMAN'S WIFE.

MAPS TO TERRORIZE.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 30.—This morning I read F. D. R.'s "horrendous" account of the new Nazi map of South America.

Tonight reading Shirer's "Berlin Diary" I read: "More astute propaganda is that which tries to whip up the support of the people for this war by telling them of the dire consequences should the allies win. Tomorrow the Voelkischer Beobachter will publish a map showing how Germany will look in case of a Franco-British victory. . . . Clever propaganda and the German people will fall for it."

How parallel the dictator minds do run!

And the subsidized Americans will fall for it.

LEGION POST ANTI-WAR.

Homer, Ill., Oct. 24.—We would like you to give publicity to the fact that downstate American Legions are also opposed to prowar tactics of Milo Warner and other New Dealers in command of the national convention. Homer post, in formal action Monday, voted unanimously against participating in another European war. A. J.

JOBS IN POLITICS.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Some folks seem to be getting hot under the collar because the Republicans are replacing politically appointed Democrats with Republicans. Well, what is sauce for the Democrats is sauce for the Republicans. Recall what happened back in '32? And they didn't wait for months either. O. M.

A SLIVER OF PIE.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Even considering service, overhead, and everything else, by what tremendous amount of hokum can a restaurant chain justify 15 cents for a one-sixth sliver of pumpkin pie?

NORTHCENTER.

POLITICS AND THE SYNDICATE.

Stickney, Ill., Oct. 31.—I am with you 100 per cent in your paper's exposé of the syndicate's work and corrupt politics. It is of vital importance to me and my fellow citizens of Cicero, where I lived for 21 years, and the village of Stickney, my present home. According to your "financial sheets of the syndicate" Cicero leads the list with Stickney having only two gambling houses.

This syndicate exposé recalls to me that in the last village election in Stickney I was a candidate for village clerk. I was told that I had to make a deal with the so-called syndicate before I could have a chance to get elected. Formerly this village did have such a hookup and the citizens were determined to end it, which they did by electing new officials.

The state's attorney should coöperate with your paper, as well as civic bodies in Cook county, especially in those communities where the syndicate has been running wild. Cicero citizens, note.

JOSEPH JAROS.

FROM THE COMMUNITY FUND.

Chicago, Oct. 28. — The Community Fund campaign committee, as you know, is made up almost entirely of volunteer workers. It is a pretty tough job both as to the amount of time required and as to the rather unpleasant duty of soliciting funds.

Speaking for the volunteer members of the Fund and the needy people of Chicago who are really the reason for the Fund, we want to thank you for the generous contribution the Tribune Charities have made to us this year.

Aside from the money gift we are grateful for the help you are giving us in such a generous way thru the columns of The Tribune. It truly is the World's Greatest Newspaper with a philosophy of kindness and charity which goes with the best people and big institutions.

Again we say, "thanks a million."

COSTLY FOR THE WIVES.

Tullahoma, Tenn., Oct. 30.—It appears that every one is receiving some attention from the government except officers' wives. Perhaps people feel we should remain at home. Yet we are doing everything possible to remain with our husbands, even under disadvantages.

Rents near the camps are twice as high as in Chicago. The restaurant food here near Camp Forrest is of inferior quality and service is poor. We have driven 80 miles to obtain a decent meal. Everything is higher, simply because the army has money to spend. All other items, including gasoline, are sky high. M. S.

TWO COSTLY ERRORS.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—The two most famous mistakes in history:

Napoleon's mistake at Waterloo.

Gangland's mistake in putting its secret papers in an oven.

WILLIAM WALTER SCOTT.

TERGIVERSATE.

Evanston, Ill., Oct. 30.—Suggest you look in the dictionary and possibly you can use this word in your editorials relative to the New Deal. W. G. EADIE.

BATTLE TO SAVE TWO POLICEMEN SHOT IN TAVERN

Transfusions Given; Hold Parolee and Pal.

Brother policemen gave their blood yesterday to save the lives of two other policemen who were shot and critically wounded earlier in the day by an ex-convict bandit turned loose on March 4 by the parole board.

Meanwhile, the avowed companion of the gunman in the tavern where the shooting occurred was arrested.

The wounded policemen are Peter McGuire, 27 years old, of 6334 North Francisco avenue, and William Sullivan, 31, of 5412 North Campbell avenue, both of Town Hall station.

Ex-Convict Fires Shots.

They were shot early yesterday in a tavern at 1122 Leland avenue by George Roy Baker, 40, who seized control of the old Coal Teamsters and Hikers' union in 1933 after a series of shootings, bombings, and kidnapings had brought the union under police supervision.

Baker was sentenced to a year to life in prison in 1934 as a member of a robber gang which took $30,000 in a number of Chicago holdups, but the parole board eventually adjudged him fit for parole.

The police took up Baker's trail yesterday after Norman Wrobel, 28, a publicity man living at 4107 McVicker avenue, telephoned them that Baker had threatened him with a gun in a tavern at 4017 Sheridan road. Wrobel met the policemen in the tavern and reported that he had seen Baker go to the tavern in Leland avenue. Wrobel accompanied the policemen there.

When the police entered, Baker attempted to leave by a rear door, but found it locked. He turned and advanced on the policemen, who were in the front.

Fires Thru His Coat.

Before the police could draw their guns, Baker fired four times thru his coat. McGuire was shot in the abdomen, the right arm, and the right leg. Sullivan was shot in the abdomen.

Despite their wounds, the policemen leaped upon the gunman in an effort to disarm him. Baker was winning the fight until a customer in the tavern and a bartender helped overpower him.

The wounded policemen were taken to Ravenswood hospital, where Policeman Norman Anderson of their station and Bernard Towhey of North Damen avenue station gave blood for transfusions.

Tour of Taverns.

Late yesterday, the police arrested Frank Crotty, a beer truck driver at 4652 Flournoy street, who said he had been on a tour of the taverns on his route with Baker.

Crotty said Baker accused Wrobel of throwing a firecracker at him in the Sheridan road tavern, and that an argument followed. Crotty asserted that he and Baker then went to the second tavern, where Crotty said he was playing the 26 game when the shooting began.

Baker led a rebellion in the coal teamsters' union during the turbulent days after George [Red] Barker and William [Three Finger Jack] White, both of whom have since been assassinated in gangland wars, were dominating figures in the organization. Baker took over the union by force and became its president, but was driven out. The state's attorney's office subsequently forced a reorganization of the union.

NEW GRAND JURY TO INVESTIGATE GAMBLING GRAFT

The November grand jury which Chief Justice Robert J. Dunne will impanel today will be asked to investigate graft believed paid by the Jack Guzik gang to officials of Cook county towns who permitted the gang to operate slot machines and gambling houses. The graft payments were revealed by Guzik's ledger sheets, which THE TRIBUNE obtained and turned over to State's Attorney Courtney.

The jury will not hear evidence against the Guzik gang until Wednesday or Thursday. Court will not be in session Tuesday because of the judicial election.

Courtney yesterday said five assistant prosecutors and eight investigators on his staff also will give information to the jury about alleged corruption of officials in the city, where the gang is entrenched more firmly thru handbooks than in the county towns.

Flint, Mich., City Assessor Is Found Fatally Wounded

Flint, Mich., Nov. 2 [Special].—Mark E. Older, 58 years old, city assessor since 1933, who was named by Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner to the state tax commission six weeks ago, died today in Hurley hospital of a bullet wound which the coroner said he believed was self-inflicted. Older was found unconscious in the basement of his home with a bullet wound in his head. A rifle lay beside him. Relatives insisted death may have been an accident, as the family physician who treated Older for a nervous ailment due to overwork, had advised hunting as a recreation.

[ADVERTISMENT]

Milk Mixture for Stomach Ulcer Pains

A recent medical discovery now being used by doctors and hospitals everywhere has proven unusually successful in the treatment of stomach ulcers caused from excess acid. It is a harmless preparation yet so effective that in many cases the pains of stomach ulcers disappear almost immediately after it is used. Also recommended for gas pains, indigestion and heartburn due to hyperacidity. Sufferers may now try this at home by obtaining a bottle of Lurin from their druggist. Lurin contains this new discovery in its purest form. Easy to take. Just mix two teaspoonfuls in a half glass of milk. Costs but little. Try a bottle, it must satisfy or money refunded. Lurin for sale by Walgreen's, Stineway and drug stores everywhere.

2 HUNTERS FOUND DEAD IN RIVER; ONE STILL MISSING

The bodies of two duck hunters were recovered from the Illinois river in Peoria county yesterday and a search was in progress for the third member of their party.

Hunters found the bodies of Edward Katzberg, 44 years old, 4239 South Campbell avenue, a welder, and Mrs. Norma Wellburn, of Argo, but no trace was found of her husband, Thomas, also a welder.

The party left Chicago Friday and set out from Rome, near Peoria, Saturday morning. It is believed their boat overturned a short time later.

F. D. R. ACCUSED OF WILLFUL ACTS IN WAR PROGRAM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—Accusing President Roosevelt of "willful, deliberate and persistent efforts to force this country to take full part in the present European war" in defiance of the "proven will of the majority" of the people, the America First committee, in a resolution made public tonight, announced its intention to take an active part in the congressional election next year.

The organization will work for the return of senators and congressmen without regard to party who vote for the retention of the neutrality act provisions the repeal of which is sought by the administration. Conversely it will work for the defeat of members voting for the neutrality repealer.

See Threat of Real War.

The resolution, drafted by Isaac Pennypacker, attorney and chairman of the Philadelphia chapter, was adopted by 227 chapter chairmen and delegates from 119 chapters in 27 states at a week-end session in Washington. It states that repeal of the neutrality act provisions "would permit further intentional provocation of incidents leading to war and therefore may be a prelude to a vote for war."

The delegates also unanimously adopted a resolution introduced by William T. Leonard, Brooklyn chairman, calling upon President Roosevelt to withdraw American troops from Iceland and to order American naval vessels out of the war zones.

Demand Destroyer Facts.

Simultaneously the group unanimously authorized a letter to Sen. David I. Walsh [D., Mass.], chairman of the naval affairs committee, who was responsible for the full disclosure of the facts in the Greer case, urging similar investigation in connection with the sinking of the Reuben James.

The letter, proposed by Amos R. H. Pinchot, attorney and member of the New York chapter, recited that the assembled delegates, like all Americans, are shocked and grieved at the loss of life in the Reuben James disaster, and requested Sen. Walsh to ask the President to reveal who gave the orders for the Reuben James to engage in convoy duty, and to reveal all the facts and circumstances under which the disaster occurred.

FALL DOWN STAIRS FATAL.

Leo Kieffer, 59 years old, 3809 Lowe avenue, a teamster, died yesterday in County hospital of a skull fracture received when he fell down the basement stairs of his home.

AMERICAN TABLE PAD CO.

TO MARRIED COUPLES WHO NEED EXTRA CASH

How you can get a $100 loan quickly and simply if you can pay back $9.77 a month —No endorsers or guarantors required

WOULD A $100 or $200 loan come in handy this month? Have you old bills you would like to clean up with a loan?

If you have a job, you may borrow up to $300 at Household Finance in a simple, private transaction. Then you may repay your loan in monthly installments arranged to fit your own income and paydays.

3 ways to borrow

Suppose that you need $100. The table shows that 12 monthly installments of $9.77 each will repay a $100 loan in full. Or, if you wish smaller payments, as little as $6.99 a month will repay a $100 loan in 18 months.

All you do to apply for a Household Finance loan is to tell us how much you need and how you wish to repay. Household Finance loans are made in three ways. First way: On your personal note. No security required. This type of loan is made, when circumstances warrant, to both single persons and married couples. Second way: On your car. This plan may best fit your needs. Third way: On your furniture. This plan is used by thousands. Here character and income are far more important than the value of your security. Your loan will be made the way which best fits your own situation.

Other important points: It is not necessary to ask friends or fellow-workers to act as endorsers. And at no time do we question friends or relatives about your money affairs. You get your loan quickly and simply.

Get your loan for less

Payments in the table include charges at Household's rate of 2½% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100 and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. The Small Loan Law permits us to charge substantially more than this. Some finance companies do charge more. We publish our rates and payments to help you shop for your loan.

If you need money for an emergency, bring your problem to Household. Or just phone and say that you need a loan. We are here to serve you. Phone or visit us without obligation.

Permit a Dying Romance to Die, Is Doris' Advice

BY DORIS BLAKE.
[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

Anna and her young man have come to the parting of the ways. They were pretty close for more than a year, planning a future together. The last couple of months, Anna tells, have been spent trying to break off smoothly by seeing less and less of each other, a mutually agreeable arrangement.

Anna finds now that she is willing to call it a day. Indeed, she did tell the young man, the last time he telephoned her, that she would not go out with him that night, or on any future evening. The young man didn't like that, perhaps feeling his the right to serve the final ultimatum. In any event, he never attempted another call and, woman-like, Anna now feels the friendship should not be left on that note.

Regardless of the young man's interpretations, Anna, we think it would be better to let the finis chapter you wrote stay that way.

ASCAP Invited to Take Part in Operetta Quest

An invitation to the members of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers to take part in the $10,500 quest for the great American operetta sponsored by W-G-N was forwarded yesterday to Gene Buck, president, and John G. Paine, general manager of the society.

ASCAP, organized in 1914 to protect composers' performing rights, now controls more than 1,270,000 musical compositions and arrangements. Its membership includes such noted composers as Irving Berlin, Jerome Kern and Sigmund Romberg—all of whom are members of the advisory board for the W-G-N competition.

The Mutual network, of which W-G-N is the key station in the middle west, resumed broadcasting of ASCAP music last May 13 after a controversy over fees had taken all ASCAP tunes off the major networks last Jan. 1.

First announcement of the prize quest for the Great American operetta was made in a Chicago Theater of the Air broadcast on W-G-N and the coast to coast Mutual network Saturday night by Col. Robert R. McCormick, president of W-G-N and editor and publisher of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

The operettas submitted are to be American in setting and theme. Mythical kingdoms, Vienna, Paris—all the favorite locales of most operettas now produced—are out and the American scene is in, with prize money, stage and screen rights, and production on the air as incentives to composers and writers.

The response to the announcement of the quest was immediate. Telephone calls asking details of the contest were frequent yesterday. The complete rules are published in a full page advertisment in this edition of THE TRIBUNE.

Emmerich Kalman, composer of many operettas, who Saturday accepted by telephone an invitation to become a member of the advisory board which will assist in selecting the winning operettas, yesterday amplified his feelings about the contest in a telegram from New York.

"I take great pleasure in accepting your honorable invitation to act as judge in your contest," Kalman's message said. "I will be happy to help work together with you for the best American operetta and I will support your worthy enterprise with best endeavor."

★ THRU THE LOOKING GLASS ★

A dry skin lotion that can be used for the body as well as the face and hands and that doesn't cost very much seems to us one of the best beauty investments any woman can make. There are such preparations, you know, and we think they're not nearly as widely used as they deserve to be.

One of our favorites is an exceptionally good liquid emollient in a pretty shade of pink. It's for year round use, but it really comes into its own, as far as the dry skinned woman is concerned, when the cold weather descends. She will use it as a body lotion after the bath; she'll massage it in generously to the skin of knees and elbows and she can even use it as an overnight cream to prevent chapping of face and hands.

The wonderful thing about this is that it isn't sticky. Use it sparingly when you must don clothing immediately. When you have leisure to let a lot of it soak in to the parched skin you can pour plenty of it on.

Nov. 3, 1941.

Universal day—Keep things running smoothly and don't get ahead of yourself.

November—While we are talking about an eight month we might look at an interesting confirmation that these numbers of power, eight and 22, and also 11, do keep coming into the picture. Eight is the number of authority, justice, monopoly, and organization. Since November is an eight month, we may expect now to hear reference to the Roosevelt-Churchill meeting at sea. String Quartet Is Greeted by Capacity House

BY CECIL SMITH.

At its very first concert the new Fine Arts String quartet found itself in the enviable position of having to turn customers away from Fullerton hall because the entire supply of seats had been sold out in advance. Our revival of chamber music in Chicago thus is clearly no myth, inasmuch as the Philharmonic String quartet had played to an equally large audience just a week earlier.

The new quartet is composed of young players from the Chicago Symphony orchestra—Leonard Sorkin and Bernard Senescu, violinists; Sheppard Lehnhoff, violist, and George Sopkin, cellist. Their professional acquaintance with one another stood them in good stead in their first public appearance as a quartet, for they have already attained a good ensemble, with admirable unanimity of rhythm and balance of tone, and with flexibility and communicativeness.

The Quartet for Strings by Dimitri Shostakovich, composed two years ago, was the novelty of the afternoon. Mr. Shostakovich, who is now 35, no longer seems quite as wicked and saucy as he did a decade ago. The conventionality of the official soviet attitude toward Russian composers has distinctly tamed down the style of such modernists as Shostakovich and Prokofieff. Consequently, while the Shostakovich quartet is agreeable and clever, it could not possibly shock the tenderest ear.

Moreover, the composer's resources are not so boundless as we all used to suppose. With each new work it becomes apparent that he is taking more and more pains to stay within the limitations of his none too prolific melodic and harmonic inventiveness. In structure, also, the quartet sidesteps the necessity of building logical and cogent long forms quite as neatly as the Fifth symphony does, by deliberately darting to a new idea when an old one seems to be used up.

Armand Roth, violist, joined the members of the quartet in Mozart's beautiful but little known D major quintet. The middle movements went well; the opening movement lacked clear definition of the separate parts, and the finals was played too fast for satisfactory accentuation. In the superb Mendelssohn octet, which closed the program, Oscar Chausow, David Moll, Mr. Roth, and Jenska Slebos were assisting artists.

Patricia Travers, who at the age of 13 has adopted a modish coiffure and grown up notions of dress, showed an even more remarkable mastery of violin technique and tone than before, as she returned to Orchestra hall yesterday after a year's absence. Her bowing is firm and dependable, and her command of the devices of her instrument is more nearly infallible.

Her program, however, was much too ambitiously conceived, for it required her to cope with musical works far beyond her present intellectual scope. She found no continuous meaning in either the Brahms D minor sonata or the Bach Chaconne. The Glazounoff concerto and Paganini's "I Palpiti" served her purposes better, for they demand fluency and brilliance rather than penetration.

Bernard Frank played the piano with an admirable sense of musical values.

★ On the House ★

In preparing your house for winter . . . lubricate dampers in fireplace so that they will work easily, and remove ash from clean out chute into the basement . . . oil helps dampers in registers to shut and open easily. . . . A light paint or bright rubber pads on cellar stairs will make them safer spots, and if putty has loosened around any window panes, renew it. . . . Paint bottom of sash, if necessary, where it comes in contact with window sill. . . . Houses either march forward or slip back, and proper maintenance will keep them going ahead.

Lovely Checkerboard Rug

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

A crocheted "checkerboard" rug is fun to create, since it is made in small patches and sewed together when completed. This type of rug may be crocheted from boilproof carpet warp in any number of clever color combinations. Black and white are effective for one choice and blue and red are an ideal selection for rugs to be used in front of a door. Greens, yellows, blues, and reds may be combined with ecru or white, and the range of colors allows any combination.

For instructions in crocheting the "checkerboard" rug, No. 431, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Lost Prospector.

Artie Shaw and Ernest Byfield were exchanging tales. The orchestra conductor told of the prospector lost in Death Valley. He staggered along for several days, accompanied by his dog, Rover, without food or drink. Finally, on the verge of starvation, he began to cast sidewise glances at his dog. A day or two later he killed the dog, barbecued it, and ate it.

"Poor Rover," he said when he had finished. "I wish he were here. How he would have enjoyed those bones."

Tale for Musicians.

A particularly interested listener to the Hindemith number, the Symphonic Dances at the Chicago Symphony orchestra concert last week was Remi Gassman, young pianist and composer now living in Chicago and playing with the Chicago Civic orchestra. Gassman was the only American pupil of Hindemith up to the time he took up his current teaching post at Yale. He tells the story of the composition of Hindemith's Trauermusik which was broadcast in 1936 by the British Broadcasting company at the time of the death of King George, and composed only twenty-four hours before it was broadcast. Hindemith was scheduled to play one of his concertos, and the broadcast was canceled because of the king's death. He sat down to write appropriate music, so the broadcast could be given, and in a few hours one afternoon wrote the Funeral Music for viola and strings. It was copied that night by four copyists, rehearsed the next morning, and broadcast that evening. Since it has become one of his most frequently played numbers.

* *

Hindemith's feat in turning out a major musical work in a few hours immediately invites comparison with Mozart, who is supposed to have written The Marriage of Figaro practically overnight, and turned out operas and symphonies, choral works, concertos, and chamber music with incredible copiousness; with Handel during his London period, and with Sir Arthur Sullivan.

Cuff Notes.

Swing musicians in New York are nuttier than ever, says a quipster, because now they are smoking king size reefers. . . . Margalo Gillmore, who is appearing as Vinnie in Life with Father, flew to Chicago to spend Sunday with Katharine Cornell, in Chicago in The Doctor's Dilemma. . . . There now is a Pocket Guide for Vitamin Hunters, a companion piece to the Pocket Guide for Calorie Counters, helpful information for those who want to get their vitamins from food instead of pills. . . . John Kirby's new lyric—about a mosquito delirious with joy because it passed the screen test. . . . Sign on delivery truck that nearly ran down Pet Lighter, "Be a Jump Ahead. Eat Frog's Legs." . . . Something we'd like to hear: Victor Moore describing the clothes to be shown at the fashion matinée to be held Nov. 14 at a State street shop by the American Theater Wing of British War Relief with William Gaxton as master of ceremonies. . . . Week-end visitors in Chicago, C. S. Forester, author of Capt. Horatio Hornblower, and Mrs. Forester, small, friendly, an enchanting child's face behind her horn rimmed glasses. Forester's latest book, not yet out, is a book for children started as a continued story when their small son got fussy about his food. When he ate, the story went on; when he didn't eat properly, it stopped. Neighbor children out in Berkeley, Cal., where they now live, started gathering to hear the instalments. Now the tale is at his publisher's.

Progression-of-Civilization Note.

Late last Friday afternoon, as a customer entered a chain store, a lad of 12 was vigorously soaping the glass of the open door. The manager said quietly, as he passed him, "It isn't quite dark enough yet." Then turning to his customer, a woman named Irma J. Walker, he said, "I asked him to wait until after dark so the customers could see what is in the windows. He agreed, and what's more, he'll come back tomorrow and clean it off. He did last year."

Many Dinner Parties Planned to Precede Assembly Ball

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE Assembly ball is almost five weeks away, but experienced hostesses already have "spoken for" their favorite dinner guests for that gala night. The ball is regarded as the highlight of Chicago's winter season, so it's not surprising to find that dinner reservations already are pouring into private clubs and hotels for the evening of Friday, Dec. 5.

Before they take their places at the head of the receiving line in the Palmer House, Mr. and Mrs. William McCormick Blair will give a small dinner in their Astor street home. The Blairs also entertained before last year's ball, but this year their guest list will be more limited. Mr. Blair heads the Assembly's board of governors.

Governors of the Assembly to Be Guests at Parties.

Other governors and their wives will be dining at various parties before the ball. The Edison Dicks are taking 20 guests to the Pump room for dinner. Solomon B. Smith, who is secretary of the board of governors, and Mrs. Smith will be among the Morrison Wauds' dinner guests.

Mrs. Merrill Hubbard's dinner party at the Casino will be a small one. At nearby tables in the smart little club will be the parties of Mr. and Mrs. Henry N. Rowley, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Leidy Johnston, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward De Witt Shumway. Mrs. Phelps B. Hoyt and Mrs. D. Mark Cummings will be entertaining jointly at the Casino. Dr. and Mrs. Paul B. Magnuson have made dinner reservations for a small party at the Racquet club.

Another of the small parties before the ball will be that of Mr. and Mrs. John Root, who will entertain at the Saddle and Cycle club.

Mrs. Hubbard to Stay at Park Dearborn Hotel.

Between now and the date of the ball Mrs. Hubbard will be staying at the Park Dearborn to be near her elder daughter, Merrill, who has completed five weeks of her nurses' training course at St. Luke's hospital. After Miss Elizabeth Hubbard has returned from Foxcroft the family will go out to Lake Forest for Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Magie II. of Winnetka are planning a small dance for their nieces, Miss Betty and Miss Peggy Magie, on Sunday, Dec. 21, at the Sheridan Shore Yacht club. The girls' parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Quick Magie, will give a cocktail party before the dance in their new home at Elm street and Sheridan road in Winnetka. Miss Betty is in her second year at Stoneleigh college in Rye Beach, N. H., and Miss Peggy is studying art at the Marjorie Webster school in Washington, D. C.

Another Christmas party will be the dinner-dance which Miss Barbara McClurg will give for four of her debutante classmates on Tuesday, Dec. 23. Miss Shirley Hopkins and Miss Bessie Cowles, who were at the Ethel Walker school with Miss McClurg, and Miss Betty Bennett and Miss Ada Blanche Wrigley, who were among her classmates at the Girls' Latin school, will be the especial guests.

Mrs. Percy Graham and her debutante daughter, Miss Harriett Dawes, are leaving today for Ormond Beach, Fla., where Miss Dawes will enter the Casements, a junior college.

Polish Ambassador to Be Luncheon Guest.

The ambassador of Poland, Jan Ciechanowski, and Mme. Ciechanowska will be the especial guests at a luncheon which the Chicago chapter of the American Friends of Poland will give today in the Crystal ballroom of the Blackstone hotel. The ambassador's speech will be broadcast over the Mutual system.

Col. George T. Langhorne, president of the American Friends of Poland, will preside at the luncheon. Among those at the speaker's table will be Jan Stanczyk, minister of labor of Poland, Sylwin Strakacz, minister plenipotentiary and consul general of Poland in New York, and his wife; Maj. Gen. Bronislaw Duch, commander in chief of the Polish army in Canada; Karol Rifa, consul general of Poland in Chicago, and Mrs. Ripa, Rear Admiral and Mrs. John Downes, Bishop Bernard J. Sheil, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Joseph Barzynski, and Mayor Kelly.

Mrs. Mary Breckinridge, who established the Frontier Nursing service in the mountains of Kentucky, will tell of the work of her "nurses on horseback" at 3 o'clock today in the Casino club.

Actor to Give Reading for Junior Leaguers.

"The Jervis Bay Goes Down" will be read by Bramwell Fletcher of the cast of "The Doctor's Dilemma" at the fall business meeting of the Chicago Junior league in the East lounge of the Ambassador East hotel at 11:45 o'clock this morning.

Four bridal veils, several pieces of sterling silver, and a new fur coat will be among the items on sale at the semiannual rummage sale of the North Side and Kenwood centers of the Infant Welfare to be held today, tomorrow, and Wednesday, at 1006 South Michigan avenue.

A demure Christmas cherub and two twinkling trees head the red and white invitations which are expected to draw hordes of customers to a sale today and tomorrow in Mrs. Lester Armour's home in Sheridan road, Lake Bluff. The event is the annual Christmas sale and showing of the woman's board of the Alice Home hospital.

Help Plan Army and Navy Club Ball Nov. 11

Looking at Hollywood
By John Chapman

Hollywood Cal., Nov. 2.—Sunday—I'm giggling at a yarn in today's papers from Reno about two California women who got divorces together and then married each other's divorced husband. "The Harrises and McQuistons," it says, have been friends for four years or more. Plans of the two couples to exchange mates have been known to friends in Richmond and El Cerrito for six months since Mrs. Harris confided the news to the Cerrito Park Improvement club, of which she was president." . . . Well, a morning's work, and in the afternoon to call on the Gregory La Cavas, returned from their New York jaunt.

Monday—To Warners', where the press boys are jumpy about reports of Bob Taplinger's resignation, and onto the set of Frank Capra's "Arsenic and Old Lace." Frank has an immense stage, and on it are fully equipped houses in which fireplaces and stoves really work, a street, some Broadway-Crosstown street cars and a fine graveyard.

Tuesday—To 20th-Fox for a gander at the Ginger Rogers set, and Ginger looks quite something in her "Roxie Hart" character. She's a honky-tonk Chicago hoofer, frizzle haired, in little black velvet practice pants, a white silk shirtwaist, and long net stockings. All is sweetness and light, and Ginger and Director Bill Wellman have not clashed once, as I thought they might.

Wednesday — Homework all day, and in the evening to 20th to catch "Hot Spot." Here is another swell murder mystery film, in which Victor Mature and Betty Grable get in a peck of trouble when Carole Landis is bumped off. The picture is tight and fast, and Laird Cregar gives a tingling performance as a homicide squad dick.

Thursday—To RKO, where William Dieterle is filming his blues cavalcade, "Syncopation," and a long talk with Leith Stevens about the musical research involved. Stevens says he has found many old blues tunes which will be honeys with modern arrangements. Dieterle is up to his ears in swing, having spent months listening to bands around the country and playing hundreds of phonograph records. In his childhood he had a good musical education, playing piano pretty well—and grew up strictly long hair, or classical. But he finds he likes the swing stuff, too.

Friday—A morning's chores and then a dab at golf, and in the locker room is Barton MacLane, back from a hunting trip in British Columbia and kind of disgusted. He had to pay $50 for a hunting license and got some pheasants and ducks. He wanted to ship them home, paid another $15 for a permit and United States customs held them so long they spoiled!

Saturday — At the desk. Want a gag? Humphrey Bogart was working on his boat, docked at Balboa, and an old guy alongside was working on his own skiff. They got talking and the old guy asked what Bogey did. Bogart said he was an actor. What kind? A motion picture actor. "Talkies?" asked the old guy.

Frances Shimer Alumnae Group to Sponsor Dance

The North Shore Alumnae association of Frances Shimer college will meet at 8 o'clock this evening in the home of Mrs. J. Roscoe Harry, 409 Belmont avenue. Plans will be made for an annual scholarship dance on Nov. 29 at the Edgewater Beach hotel. The North Shore group will join the south and west side alumnae groups on Nov. 8 for a bridge party and luncheon at the Home Arts guild, 205 North Michigan avenue.

There's Swank in New Black Suede Pumps

BY REA SEEGER.

Fascinating foot work is achieved in the many new soot black suedes designed for dress parade clothes. There are dashing pumps with high graceful heels attractively brightened with narrow pipings of gold; there are very swanky sandal type pumps with medium heels and interesting half inch band straps over the toes at right angles so that part of the toes are covered and there are suede slippers of black that are made of many shoestring thin straps laced and interlaced to follow the outlines of the foot.

All black finds such as these answer the puzzling shoppers' query of what to wear with the many short dresses for after five festivities . . . they are understanding companions with sleek wool suit afire with jet, sequin, and paillete trim. Some of the pumps and slippers are likewise trimmed with the same flickering shiners. If you demand untrimmed black beauties, you'll find all kinds of suavely cut and fashioned studies the ubiquitous sequins and rhinestone usual pattern, with straps cunningly crossed and double crossed in many new intriguing formations.

Then there are the time honored and never dated opera pumps to which you attack various bows just at the instep for change or to accentuate your special costume. Fur bows of every imaginable fur, from silver fox to mink, are available.

"No Light Came On"

By Alice Ormond Campbell

[Copyright: 1941: By Alice Ormond Campbell]

INSTALMENT XLIX.

LAWYER'S THOUGHTS.

"'I'm just off to Catherine's,' I told Miles Dorsey. "'She's told me to use her apartment till I'm at liberty to sail.'"

"Quite so. And Rentrew, so he tells me, is already beginning a complete rest cure at the American hospital."

"Why not? He needs one. Hasn't it occurred to you that this time yesterday he never thought to find me alive?"

It might even have occurred to him that my own nerves stood in need of a little coddling; but no, my one catty remark went right over his head.

"O? Yes, quite."

Only that. Rather densely he went on staring. I wondered irritably why on earth he was here.

"Yes," he continued, "Rentrew called by the office on his way out to Neuilly. Wants me to look the flat over before it's finally closed up."

O, so that was it! My cheeks burned hot. My visitor cleared his throat.

"Officially," he explained, "our firm will take charge here till the matter of ownership is established by law."

"Ownership! Will there be the remotest question about that?"

"Meaning will De Chabenil get convicted? Not a doubt of it, I should say. It's practically in the bag."

He tossed a latchkey into the air, caught it, slipped it back into his pocket. I felt I would burst.

"O!" I cried. "Congratulations."

"Congratulations on what?"

"Why, wasn't it you who discovered this marriage? You had advantages, of course. Your trip over on the plane."

"What plane?"

"For heaven's sake! The English plane. They crossed for the Christie sale. You crossed, too. I saw your name among the passengers."

"You saw my name?"

"Look here," I said, exasperated, "are you trying to tell me there are two Miles Dorseys? Of course you flew over with Cousin Lou and her Frenchman. You——"

"I did no such thing. O, let's see!" Out came a diary. "I did book a seat by air for—yes, here it is, February 10th. Couldn't get off, had to cancel the reservation. I see. So you assumed I'd caught some hint as to matrimonial plans?"

"Naturally I assumed it. If that guess is out, what did put you on to this marriage?"

"It was only a hazardous idea. I decided to make sure."

Dryly I said, "Yes, I understand. And in the face of every probability you made a bull's eye. Pretty smart work! Only why aren't you celebrating? The way you're looking, some one might have sold you a pup."

Unobtrusively his hands clinched into fists. A vein swelled in his forehead, he seemed battling for speech.

"God! Then it's not dawned on you why I took this journey to Provence?"

"Well!" I bristled. "I'll not insult you by calling your motive personal revenge. Let's say like the rest of us you wanted to rid the world of a particularly vicious criminal. Who," I said nastily, "won't hand you a medal for that?"

His gaze had been holding mine. Slowly he got to his feet.

"I'll not interrupt your packing," he muttered. "I'll come along after you've gone."

I let him get to the door. "Stop," I said. "You aren't hoping to kid me you did all this on my account?"

"Well! And if that element did enter into things?"

"If it did——." My voice got stuck. "If my being under suspicion and so on made you go to so much trouble and expense, why then, I suppose it's up to me to say 'Thank you very much!'"

Two knights errant! Quite a crowd. It had been Horace, tho, who snatched me out of our slaughterer's clutches—old Horace, on the spot, while this phlegmatic Britisher was touring hick towns a night's journey to the south.

"It may please you to learn," I added, "that I've landed my new job."

With better pay. I'd got publicity value now. I found Mr. Goldmark's frenzied message among the wad of cablegrams in my bag and handed it over for inspection. Miles frowned.

"I don't get this last bit. Is the word 'Riesener'?"

I grabbed the cable back. "O, yes, just a fool hunch that didn't come off."

Pete's cable hadn't been phony. "Genuine, a pippin, say sister, pull up your socks!" Yes, I'd be guyed about my blunder from now until Christmas. Somehow I couldn't care.

Suddenly Miles smote his thigh. "Blast! I haven't given you the thing Catherine sent up from Fontainebleau. Here it is." He opened a small attaché case and put a blank book in my hands.

"Catherine sent this? But she didn't mention it on the telephone." I looked at the neat label, the pages of close, crabbed, old-fashioned writing. "Not some one's diary?"

"Old Macadams'. Geoffrey turned it up and they both rather wanted you to see it—that is, one marked passage. Not that it will mean much now, of course. It seems the boy was the world's prize clam. Only after he died they discovered he had kept a fairly frank record of the things he suppressed. Here you are. You see, it's dated March 5th of last year."

Wonderingly I read:

"Hiram Rentrew at office, outlined new will. Leaving his Paris butler a thousand pounds, on conditions; and what conditions! Imbecile, insane. I strongly protest. Surely he must realize the colossal temptation he is offering the man, the power he is placing in a servant's hands? I quote his reply: "I'd trust Edward Manx with my purse or my life." Nothing further to be said. I draw up the will.

"Odd fish, Hiram, shrewd, but in some respects childishly simple. He argues, of course, that Mrs. R. is flighty and gullible, that when he isn't about—which is nine-tenths of the time—she will be fleeced by any Tom, Dick, or Harry, unless she has some strong minded person to look after her. No doubt it is true that for the last 14 years Manx had kept her out of trouble. It seems also a fact that the brother, Horace, is the dreamy, artistic sort who may mean well but doesn't carry much weight; but, as I pointed out, this virtual appointment of Mrs. R.'s own butler as guardian of her conduct is or may be a perilous mistake. When a dependent knows he cannot touch a large legacy while his employer is alive or if he is dismissed the situation becomer fraught with ugly potentialities.

"'Keep him to the mark,' Hiram says stubbornly. And then, going out, he turns round and grins a little. 'Don't you worry, Macadam,' he says. 'Manx won't outlive Lou. Not with his heart!'

"I trust he is right; but my misgivings are grave."

"Cousin Hiram! Small, trim, self-contained—little neat socks, polished eyeglasses, bald head. . . . Long suffering, yes; but a nonentity no! A Machiavelli. Adoring his wife and his brother, yet all the time astutely wise to their shortcomings. . . . Not but what even a Machiavelli makes mistakes."

"Gosh! Have you seen this? O, you have! We knew the facts, of course. What we didn't know was this old lawyer's opinion. I always thought Manx acted just like a jailer. Didn't you?"

"Slightly. Yes, perhaps."

Miles shifted his eyes. I found myself trying to grip his interest.

"Point is, old Mr. Macadam didn't think so much of this butler, did he? I wonder why. I mean, was it something he actually knew or——?"

I gave up. You can't clap hands with one hand.

"One thing's sure," I stated. "Cousin Lou was only waiting for her church ceremony. Right then she'd have given Snooping Eddie the push. Wouldn't she?"

"What? O, very possibly."

"Possibly? It's a cinch she'd have done that very thing. And Manx knew it! O, he knew he hadn't a dog's chance of that five thousand once a new husband took over—less than a dog's chance if the husband was Raoul de Chabenil. Hortense brought back tales from the villa. That's how Horace got to know, that's the reason Manx——"

AMBUSHED! As a boy, Jack Waugh saw his father ambushed, robbed and murdered. Now, coming back to the scene 20 years later, he found the old gang softened up. Don't miss "JUSTICE DEFERRED"—new adventure serial of the west by William MacLeod Raine—starting next Monday in the Chicago Tribune.

Good Morning!

—in which Deanna Durbin gets thoroly kissed and her co-star, Charles Laughton, stoops to comedy and dances the light fantastic. . . .

All of which is more or less news as you realize if you know your movies. . . . For Deanna has been, until very recently, movieland's most unkissed maid and Charles Laughton one of the screen's most ominous characters. . . . Well, it's nice to see everybody being so versatile and everything.

"It Started with Eve" is a comedy drama revolving about a case of mistaken identity. Thus—

The eccentric millionaire, Jonathan Reynolds, supposedly dying, requests that his son bring to him in haste son's recently acquired fiancée, Gloria Pennington, that he may give her a once over before passing on to worlds unknown and turn thumbs up if he finds her worth the motion.

Jonathan Jr. speeds to the hotel where the young woman and her mother are stopping—but, alas, they are not to be found, having gone out on a prolonged shopping expedition. . . . Not wishing to disappoint his father, Jonathan nabs a pretty hat check girl and persuades her to pose as Gloria for a brief moment. . . .

Who would guess that Jonathan Sr. would recover AND take a most violent fancy to his prospective daughter-in-law?

WHAT to DO!

See the picture for hilarious developments.

While preferring Mr. Laughton as the sort of mean cuss he knows how to play so variously, I bow to him as an all-out comedian, tho, as you all know, his rare sense of humor sharpens—or softens—his very characterization. Miss Durbin is charming—tho I have known her to be in better voice—and Robert Cummings makes young Jonathan a thing of joy. . . . Supporting players are easy and entertaining and direction was expert.

This picture has speed, suspense, and very decided audience appeal.

See you tomorrow.

Mince Pie Is Delicious Dessert and Easy to Make These Days

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1941: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Old time kitchens smelled of spice and everything nice at this time of year as mincemeat simmered on the coal range. Ah, those steaming, fragrant mince pies that mother used to make!

Mince pies are easier these days. Few women still put up their own mincemeat. Commercial mincemeats of fine quality furnish the fillings for their pies. Mincemeat may be bought in the package, to be softened with water, or in the can, to be used as it is. Some of the best mincemeats are flavored with brandy and rum, old English style.

Mince pies are hundreds of years old. A 13th century manuscript records that mince pies were served at the coronation of Henry V.

Forks being unknown at the time, the pies were encased in sturdy crusts and eaten from the hand.

Nineteenth century English cooks fancied their mincemeats with rosewater, marmalades, ale, and champagne. Making the mincemeat was a laborious process of preparing and chopping meat and fruits, and cooking them together with spices and flavorings for hours on end. Cooks would bake pies by the dozens, keeping them frozen and heating them as they were to be used. It took a festive occasion to bring out mince pie in those days. Nowadays mince pies aren't saved for Thanksgiving or Christmas.

Thanksgiving and Christmas, in my opinion, are the two least desirable times to serve mince pie. There is too much other heavy food on these days. Mince pie should follow a light meal, for it is almost a meal in itself. I can make a wonderful Sunday evening meal for myself from a piece of warm mince pie and a glass of milk, nothing more.

Rich mincemeat may be combined with chopped apples to make a pie, and it tastes wonderful as a filling for baked apples. The spiciness and flavor pervades the apple juices and baking water, to make a delicious sirup.

Mincemeat makes grand filling for cookies, too.

If you like brandy sauce on warm mince pie, this recipe will interest you.

Brandy Sauce.

¾ cup sugar
½ tablespoon cornstarch
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 cup hot water
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon brandy

Add hot water slowly to combined sugar, cornstarch, and salt in a saucepan. Stir constantly and cook until clear. Add butter and flavoring. Serve hot over mince pie or steamed pudding.

Sally Appeals in Behalf of Young Talent

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown Department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

Progressive parents and educators have long recognized the importance of music in the life of the average child, and we have recently had a number of requests for instruments of various kinds for underprivileged youngsters who show particular musical talent.

Mrs. P. is anxious to locate a xylophone, of any kind at all, for an 11 year old boy. The youngster comes from a family with a very moderate income, but has shown such talent that an acquaintance is willing to call for and if necessary, make repairs on an instrument if one can be found.

Mrs. C., who has devoted much time to fostering love of music in the youngsters in one of the poorer sections of the city, writes: "I need two or three pianos very badly indeed. Will you do what you have done so generously for me in the past? Of course, if they could be on the south side that would save expense."

Another request for a piano comes from the north side of the city. A worker is anxious to locate an instrument for a talented girl, 12 years old. Her mother is employed in a factory, and earns only enough for actual support of herself and her child.

Any reader interested in filling any of the above mentioned requests may obtain further information by writing or telephoning this department.

Work You Like Is a Type of Beauty Magic

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

"You look marvelous, Grace," a friend complimented her. "Fifteen years younger and you've lost pounds!"

"I lost 12 pounds, to be exact," said Grace. "Right back now to where I should be. And I've found something to do, something I like doing, something that keeps me humming all day long, too. I don't have a minute to think of my troubles any more. In fact, I never had any real ones. I just imagined them for the simple reason that I had all the time in the world for introspection!"

And that's a sermon. This acquaintance does look marvelous.

Women think of a million other ways of courting beauty, yet work, the kind of work you can put your heart and soul into, is a rare cosmetic. It's a magic formula, ironing out those petty quirks in face and soul, so commonly nursed on unfilled, undisciplined time.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

LAST MONDAY'S QUESTION.

Question 11: You are West, declarer at a six spade contract. Opponents made no bids. Your hand and dummy are as follows:

Declarer [West]	Dummy [East]
♠ A K Q J 10 9	♠ 7 5 4 3 2
♥ 7 4 2	♥ A Q 10
♦ 6	♦ A 5
♣ A K Q	♣ 8 4 3

North leads diamond king. Presumably, you win with dummy's ace. What is your play at the second trick, and why?

Answer: Lead the diamond five and ruff it. This play guarantees success for the slam contract, regardless of adverse distribution. Diamonds having been eliminated from both hands, outstanding trumps now are drawn, the three club tricks are cashed, and a heart is led to the ten. Now, even if both heart honors are in South's hand, the contract is safe. If South returns a heart it goes up to dummy's major tenace; if he returns a diamond or a club, declarer can discard a heart while ruffing in dummy, or vice versa. Failure to ruff the diamond at the second trick exposes declarer to defeat if both heart honors are held by South. [No demerit for wrong play, but if you played as above, and for the correct reason, take 15 points credit.]

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question 17: North-South vulnerable. The bidding proceeds:

East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	1 heart	2 spades
Pass	?

You are South, and hold:
♠ Q 7 5 ♥ A 6 5 2 ♦ A 10 9 ♣ Q 10 8

What call do you make?

TODAY'S HAND.

North, dealer.

NORTH
♥ A Q
♦ A Q 8

WEST	EAST
♠ A 5	♠ Q 7
♥ K 9 7 4	♥ J 6 5 3 2
♦ 9 5 3 2	♦ J 10 6 4

SOUTH
♠ J 10 9 6 3 2
♥ 10 8
♦ K 7
♣ K 10 6

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 club	Pass	1 spade	Pass
2 no trump	Pass	3 spades	Pass
4 spades	Pass	Pass	Pass

It was North's frightful two no trump bid that put the partnership into a contract that needed extraordinary luck for success. North's correct rebid, in response to one spade, was a modest one no trump.

West opened a low heart and, when declarer surveyed the dummy it became apparent that he would need a rabbit's foot to help him fulfill the contract. After thoro analysis, he decided that he might as well play the hand "wide open," taking every finesse in sight and hoping for the best. First, he finessed the queen of hearts. He then led to his diamond king, back to the ace, and on the queen discarded a low club. Obstacle No. 2 overcome, both opponents had followed to three rounds of diamonds. The next lead was a club toward the king, and obstacle No. 3 faded away. East went up with the ace and returned the jack. Now, at last, it was clear sailing. Declarer had lost only one trick and, therefore, could afford to lose two trump tricks. He did, in fact, lose these by guessing wrong, but considering that both the heart and the club honors had been placed favorably, he was not inclined to complain.

Tomorrow's Hand.

South, dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ K 8 6 4
♥ Q 10 9 5
♦ Q 7
♣ 9 6 2

WEST	EAST
♠ J 7	♠ Q 3 2
♥ 4 3	♥ 8 6
♦ J 10 9 6 3	♦ A K 5 4 3
♣ Q 10 8 4	♣ K 7 3

SOUTH
♥ A K J 7 2
♦ 8
♣ A J 5

Mr. Culbertson will discuss this hand in tomorrow's column.

New York, Nov. 2 [Special].—Bill Daddio's third quarter field goal gave the Chicago Cardinals a 10 to 7 upset victory over the New York Giants in the Polo Grounds this afternoon before a crowd of 29,289.

Since Washington won, the loss pushed the Giants out of first place in the eastern division of the National Football league and permitted the Redskins to advance to the top rung.

Giants Score Early.

Two former Southern Methodist stars, John Clement and Bill Dewell, just about stole the show as the Cardinals registered their second upset in New York this season. Two Sunday's ago they whipped the Brooklyn Dodgers in Ebbets field, 20 to 6. Other players who stood out for the Cardinals were Marshall Goldberg, a fine defensive back all day; Bill Davis, Alton Coppage, Johnny Martin, and Joe Kuharich. Tuffy Leemans, Len Eshmont, Mel Hein, and Andy Marefos played well for the Giants.

The Giants, with Leemans and Eshmont doing the brunt of the carrying, brought the ball to the Cardinal 5 yard line early in the first quarter. But Eshmont fumbled and Lou Zontini recovered for Chicago. After Zontini had punted to Leemans, who returned to the Card 36, the Giants came back to score. Ward Cuff ran thirty yards, then Leemans smashed over for the touchdown.

Set Stage for Daddio.

The Cardinals' touchdown came late in the second period. George Franck's punt was blocked and the Cards took possession on the Giant 44. A pass, Clement to Dewell, gave the Cardinals a first down on the 29. Two forwards from Clement to Coppage and Dewell put the ball on the 16. Another pass to Dewell brought the ball to the 8. Bob Morrow and John Hall hammered at the Giant line, then Morrow made the touchdown on a plunge off his right tackle.

Daddio's game winning field goal came half way thru the third quarter. Eshmont punted to Clement, who was downed on the Cardinal 23. With Clement passing and Goldberg rushing, the Cards picked up three first downs in a row and the ball was on the 9. Goldberg and Clement were piled up, then the Cards called on Daddio for a field goal and he made good from the 16 yard line.

ONE SUPREME DETERMINATION

President Roosevelt in an address on Sept. 11, 1940, said:

"I hate war now more than ever. I have one supreme determination—to do all I can to keep war away from these shores for all time. I stand with my party, upon the platform adopted in Chicago:

"'We will not participate in foreign wars, and we will not send our army, naval, or air forces to fight in foreign lands outside of the Americas, except in case of attack.'"

BY EDWARD PRELL.

The Chicago Bears, champions that they are, learned to their sorrow yesterday that you can't spot the Green Bay Packers 16 points. That's what they did in Wrigley field. Then, while Chicago's biggest professional football crowd of all time lent frenzied cheering aid, the Bears almost did the impossible.

Held scoreless for three quarters, their passing and running magic almost completely stopped, the Bears made a gallant comeback in the fourth quarter. They scored three minutes after the period started, crossed the Packers' goal again with six minutes left, then, with victory in sight, Sid Luckman fumbled. This was the fifth error of its kind committed by the champions, and tho there came another chance with a minute left, Green Bay doggedly held on for a 16 to 14 victory, its fifth straight, to jump back into the thick of the National Football league's western division race.

Packers Take Over Lead.

The defeat tumbled the Bears out of first place and elevated the Packers to the top with seven victories and one defeat. The Bears had won five consecutive league games.

The Bears had no excuse as their amazing streak of 15 triumphs came to an end, and the 46,484 spectators gave a rousing cheer for Curley Lambeau's men as the battle ended on an exciting play. The professional champions last were defeated on Nov. 17, almost a year ago, when Washington won, 7 to 3.

The Bears now must win their five remaining games—with Cleveland, Washington, Detroit, Philadelphia and the Cardinals—even to be sure of battling Green Bay for the western title in a postseason game. The Packers have only three contests remaining, these being with the Cardinals, Pittsburgh, and Washington.

Never Allowed to Get Set.

The champions yesterday paid the penalty for those tremendous scoring efforts against their five earlier foes which had netted 209 points. They found themselves behind, 6 to 0, midway in the first quarter. Panic showed in their efforts as they tried to regain their smooth workmanship. But the Packers wouldn't let them get set. The passers, Luckman and Young Bussey, constantly were harried by the hard charging Green Bay forwards.

While they kept close watch on Don Hutson, they left openings for Cecil Isbell's bulletlike passes and Clarke Hinkle's powerful line thrusts. Players on both sides limped off the field after bruising each other in fierce hand to hand combat. Bulldog Turner, Bill Osmanski, and Bob Nowaskey were victims. Eddie Jankowski was a Green Bay casualty. Andy Uram lost

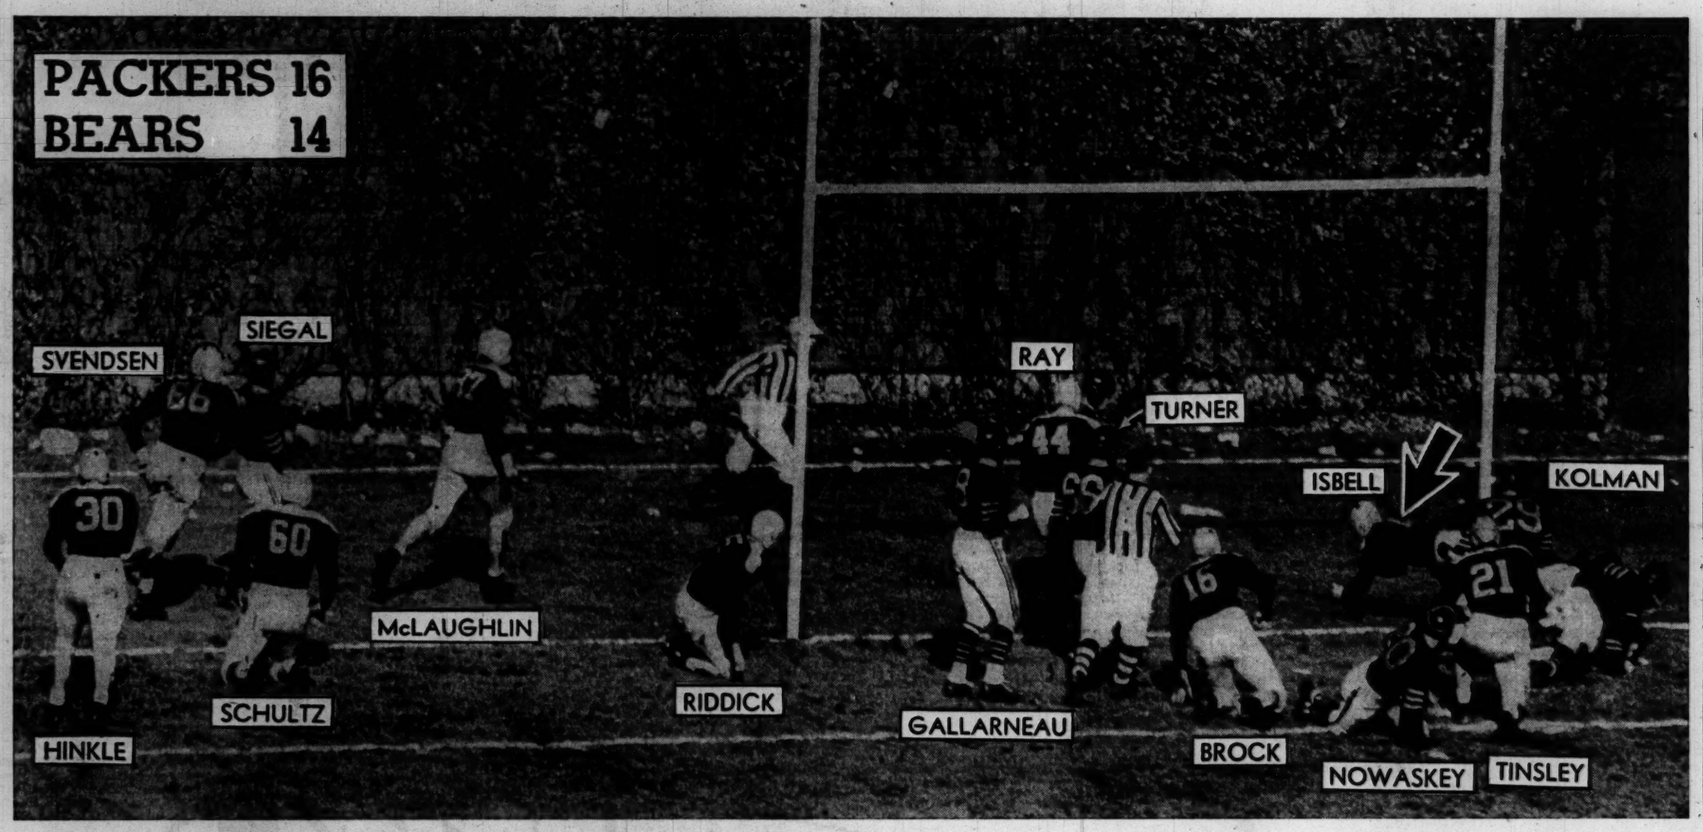
ISBELL STARTS SOMETHING THE MIGHTY BEARS COULDN'T STOP



Cecil Isbell, Green Bay back, scores after cutting in from a smash at tackle for the Packers' first touchdown in opening quarter of yesterday's game with Bears in Wrigley field. A record crowd for Chicago professional football of 46,484 saw the Packers pass and kick their way to a 16 to 14 victory, dealing the Bears their first defeat of the National league season. The triumph also gave the Packers the lead in the western division. A fourth quarter rally by the Bears which netted two touchdowns fell short of overtaking the Packers. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

WILMAN DEFEATS DAW IN ALL-STAR BOWLING TUNEUP

BY C. H. BEUKEMA.

Joe Wilman did a few more of his training chores yesterday in preparation for the All-Star Eliminations and Individual Match Game Bowling championship tournament, and Charlie Daw, veteran Milwaukee star, joined him in the doing. When they had wound up their five game match before more than 300 fans in the Dearborn-Jackson recreation center, Wilman had piled up 1,071 pins to Daw's 975 and under the Petersen scoring system, 25.21 points to Daw's 20.25.

Their training was for the event to be put on in the Coliseum Dec. 7 thru 14 under sponsorship of the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., and the Bowling Proprietors' Association of America. Sixty stars, picked from the nation's finest bowlers, will compete in a 20 game elimination for four days, Dec. 7-10.

Ned Day vs. Jackson.

Those same four days Ned Day and Lowell Jackson will roll the last 40 games of their 160 game individual match game championship event. Then, on the closing four days, Dec. 11 thru 14, the 11 high men of the starting 60, and the loser of the Day-Jackson match, will join in a round robin of five game matches.

In a special doubles match last night in the Congress recreation before 600, Wilman and Bill Hargadon bowed to Lloyd Strouse and Eli Maricich of the Joseph L. Gills, who shot a four game series of 1768 to 1574 by their rivals. Maricich led with 909, while Strouse made 859. Wilman picked up 818 pins and Hargadon 756.

The scores for Wilman and Daw follow:

Wilman	194	183	224	210	260	1071

Two Roll Today.

Two entrants in the tournament, Ted Lewon and John Small, the latter a teammate of Wilman's on the Budweisers, are to shoot against Wilman's scores at Jackson-Dearborn today. Entries for the tournaments must be in the hands of Eddie Linsz, secretary of the Bowling Proprietors' Association of America, 1901 East 13th street, by midnight Friday.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Notre Dame came out of yesterday's game against Army without a serious injury and Coach Frank Leahy said this morning that the Irish will be able to present their strongest battle front against Navy in Baltimore next Saturday. . . . There are growing indications that Notre Dame will need every available man if it is to turn back the undefeated Midshipmen, who yesterday removed Pennsylvania from the nation's undefeated ranks. . . . The Irish yesterday wore nylon pants, the first time that material has been used in a football game. . . . It weighs only half as much as the usual equipment. . . . Coach Red Blaik, who is doing a magnificent job in restoring Army's gridiron prestige, singled out Jim Brutz, left tackle, as Notre Dame's outstanding lineman. . . . Capt. Paul Lillis, the other tackle, wasn't bad, either, was he, Red? . . . It is doubtful whether West Point's Jere Maupin, tail back, who was out of yesterday's contest because of an injury, will be ready for the Harvard game Saturday. . . . Army has a brilliant substitute, if he can be called that, in Ralph Hill, a sophomore from Santa Fe, N. M., who turned in the longest run of yesterday's game. . . .

Football will have few better all around backs this season than Army's Hank Mazur. . . . His kicking, more than any other factor, was responsible for holding the Notre Dame attack in check. . . . Yesterday was the first time we can remember when Notre Dame didn't employ a back field shift. . . . The capacity crowd at Yankee stadium was the first of four consecutive sellouts for the Irish. . . . There are no unsold tickets for the Navy game in Baltimore this week-end and Dyche stadium, Evanston, where Leahy's team will play Northwestern Nov. 15, has been sold out for several weeks. . . . Fewer than 5,000 tickets remain for the Southern California contest, which will wind up Notre Dame's schedule in South Bend, Nov. 22.

But they knew nothing of the sickly boy
Whose life seemed to be ebbing fast away
Till my pawned articles brought hope and joy;

And which they heard the little beauty plan,
Was a transfusion of pigs feet and kraut
Into the midriff of a football man.

She took him out, they say, the other night

And he ate nearly everything in sight

And my watch went to feed this homely moose

NEW YORK TURF FINANCIAL MARKS ARE SHATTERED

New York, Nov. 2 (AP).—Financial records were tossed around like feathers in a hurricane during the 175 day racing season which ended Saturday.

The Empire state's second year with the mutuels saw almost every 1940 wagering mark erased. A total of $133,256,323 was bet, a daily average of $761,464. Last year, with 174 days of the sport at the five major horse parks, the total was $103,259,359 or $593,444 a day.

Attendance this year, pending the official count, was 2,503,864, compared to 2,041,374 in 1940, the average jumping from 11,732 to 14,307. The total take [10 per cent plus breakage] for 1941 was $14,336,075.53 or $7,168,037.76 each for the state and the tracks as revenue from betting.

Gets Share from Other Sources.

Last year the take came to $11,145,979.44 or $5,572,989.72 each. The breakage this year was $1,010,433.23 as against $820,043.54 in 1940.

Aside from the betting angle the state also will receive upward of a half million dollars as its share from such sources as admission taxes, license fees, etc. Its 1940 income from these sources amounted to approximately $400,000 and an increase is obvious.

In 1940, the volume of betting in New York constituted one-fourth of the entire amount wagered in the country while the attendance percentage was almost as high.

Daily Double Becomes Fixture.

The daily double form of betting was inaugurated in the state this season and after a six day trial at the opening Jamaica session the innovation became a fixture. For the 156 days the double was used, the total play on it came to $4,791,092. Not one daily double pay-off reached $1,000, the top being in the neighborhood of $800.

Various records for big business were broken and rebroken at each of the five metropolitan tracks, the Belmont spring meeting alone leaving eight new marks to be aimed at when New York's 1942 schedule rolls around.

N. U. Players Doubt Legality of Gophers' Scoring Trick

BY WILFRID SMITH.

How long is one second?

From this springboard, partisans of Northwestern and Minnesota can leap into an endless discussion of the play by which Minnesota defeated Northwestern, 8 to 7, last Saturday in Minneapolis. When the Gophers' surprise play pales in recollection, the argument may be shifted to Northwestern's forward pass touchdown that was declared illegal because a lineman progressed too far across the line of scrimmage before the pass was thrown.

After Bill De Correvont's eight yard punt went out of bounds on Northwestern's 41 yard line, Bob Sweiger failed to gain on a reverse play aimed at the Wildcats' right tackle. The play was run to the short side of the field purposely to set up the trick play that followed.

A Quick Snap, and Away.

Minnesota's men did not huddle. Sweiger added to the deception, so Northwestern players reported, by talking to his opponents. Referee John Getchell returned the ball to position for the next play. Minnesota's linemen casually advanced to the scrimmage line. Suddenly Gene Flick, Gopher center, scooped the ball from the ground and passed it to Bud Higgins, who ran forty-one yards for a touchdown.

Higgins was in motion and turned the left flank of the Northwestern defense almost before the Wildcat linemen knew the ball was in play.

Tuffy Chambers, Northwestern's captain, contended that before the play started Minnesota was guilty of an illegal shift. He charged that "players of the two lines were rubbing elbows and moving."

And here comes the question of the length of one second. The rule:

"In all shift or huddle plays all eleven players of the team in possession of the ball must come to an absolute stop and must remain stationary in their positions without movement of the feet or swaying of the body, head, or arms, for a period of at least one second before the ball is put in play."

Thousands in the crowd of 64,464 did not see the start of the play. Most the newspaper men in the press box missed it. Minnesota's movie men, who take pictures for Coach Bernie Bierman, missed it.

Of those who did see the play, one trained observer said the play was illegal. However, Referee Getchell had been told of the play before the game, had been warned on the preceding play by Minnesota's Bill Garnaas that he had called for the trick, and since Getchell allowed the play, obviously there was no doubt in his mind concerning legality.

Paul Goebel, head linesman, also was technically correct in calling the violation which canceled Northwestern's touchdown by Otto Graham's pass to Bob Motl. He will be criticized by Northwestern adherents because the violation of the rule was technical and had absolutely no effect on the play. Goebel should be censured for the length of time he needed to tell Referee Getchell of the infraction he had called. Not until the teams had lined up for the try for the point after the "touchdown" did Goebel catch up with the action on the field.

Goebel contended that Leon Cook, Northwestern right tackle, violated rule 7, section 5, article 4:

"If, on a forward pass, ineligible players advance beyond the line of scrimmage before the pass is made, it shall be penalized the same as offensive interference."

A "Catch" in the Rule.

A supplemental note to this rule, however, says:

"SITUATION: On a play from which a forward pass develops an ineligible lineman charges, driving his opponent back from the line of scrimmage. RULING: No interference unless, after losing contact, the ineligible player advances or moves laterally before the pass is made."

Cook admits that he may have been a couple of yards past the line of scrimmage, but claims that he did not violate the above supplemental ruling. Says Cook: "I was only carrying out my blocking assignment and wasn't headed down field to interfere with the defense."

Graham had thrown an exceptionally long pass from his extreme right. He easily was twenty-five yards away from Cook, who, in turn, was thirty yards from the receiver.

South Bend Central Catholic, 13; St. Joseph, Mich., Catholic, 0.
St. Bede academy, 40; Marmion Military academy, 0.

Leo was assured of a tie for the south section championship in the Catholic High School league football race by routing St. Philip, 27 to 0, yesterday on the latter's field, while St. George was handed a 6 to 0 setback by St. Rita. It was the second loss for St. George in five games and the fourth straight victory for Leo.

Leo has yet to face Catholic High of Joliet and De La Salle on successive Sundays, and a victory over either will give it the section crown.

St. Ignatius Wins.

In the north section St. Ignatius pulled into a tie with Fenwick by scoring twice in the final period to turn back St. Mel, 13 to 0, in Key Branch stadium. It was the fourth straight for St. Ignatius.

Fenwick gained a victory via the forfeit route. Illness which broke out on the Loyola squad recently has caused the team to voluntarily forfeit two games.

In other league contests, Mount Carmel scored in the final period to win from Catholic High of Joliet, 7 to 0, and Weber defeated De Paul, 7 to 0, in the last two minutes.

Henry [Babe] Baranowski paced the Leo attack against St. Philip with two touchdowns and two extra points. He passed twice for the other two tallies.

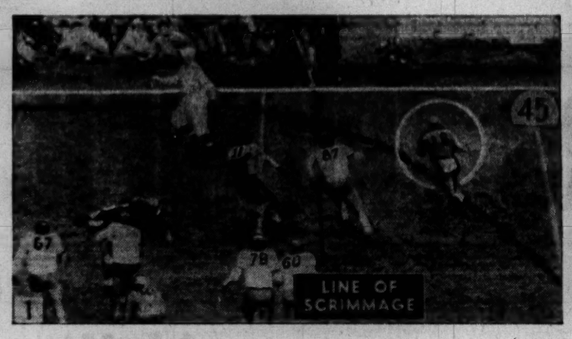
In the first quarter he threw a nineteen yard pass to Chuck Mehmel in the end zone. At the start of the second period Babe returned a punt sixty-eight yards for his first touchdown to give Leo a 13 to 0 lead at half time.

An Ancient Play.

Then in the fourth period Baranowski worked the ancient Statue of Liberty play and handed the ball to Mehmel, who raced across from the 10 yard stripe. To conclude the scoring Babe intercepted a pass and dashed forty yards.

The winning St. Rita touchdown was made in the final period by Bill Sims on a one yard plunge. Bill O'Shaughnessy of St. George attempted a field goal from the St. Rita 20 yard line, and it was blocked. Ray Ambrose scooped up the ball on the 25 yard line and ran seventy-four yards to the 1 yard line before being pulled down. On first down Sims crossed over.

MINNESOTA'S SLEEPER PLAY THAT BEAT NORTHWESTERN



Here's that talked about sleeper play that Minnesota used to beat Northwestern, 8 to 7, in Minneapolis Saturday. In the No. 1 picture, Bud Higgins (18), Gopher half back, has received the ball and is streaking to his right, pursued by George Zorich (67), Ray Vincent (78), Floyd Chambers (11), Nick Burke (60), and Bob Motl (87). In No. 2, Higgins is getting up speed as Chambers and Motl are attempting to close in on him. In No. 3, Higgins is outsprinting the two Northwestern players and his blockers, particularly Urban Odson (74), are preparing to do their work.

In No. 4, Odson is getting ready to take Bill De Correvont (49) out of Higgins' path. Don Kruger (21) has cut over in an effort to help De Correvont. Odson gets between De Correvont and Higgins in No. 5 and is screening De Correvont out of the play. Odson has his eye on Kruger, the only Northwestern man who now has a chance to stop Higgins. In No. 6, Odson is about to bump Kruger.

De Correvont is down in No. 7, while Kruger is being forced out of Higgins' path by the Gopher tackle. In No. 8, Kruger makes a desperate lunge at Higgins, but is unable to make contact. The run is finished in No. 9, Higgins crossing the Northwestern goal line standing up, with Odson also still on his feet after preventing De Correvont and Kruger from making the tackle. Strength or Fear?

A hundred men are shot to sate
A modern Moloch's ire;
A hundred men to die for one
Before a death squad's fire!
'Tis not for any crime of theirs
For which they must expire
But just as symbols in a plan
Of terror to inspire.

In sober thought, can such a plan
Be called a sign of strength?
Does basic strength require a force
To go such bloody length?

Perhaps it may but something else
Should be considered here.
'Tis said such things are to create
A tyranny of fear—
To quell revolt in seething souls
Within the conqueror's sphere.
Might not it be the conqueror
Himself is seized by fear?

Defense Program.

I always cache a book or two
Against a rainy night,
Or against a time when some contretemps
Keeps some plan from working out right;
Comes a night I'm not asked to dinner,
Or there isn't a show to see,
I bring out the book I've hidden away—
The blues can't do this to me.

I always have a book or two
Hid away 'gainst a spell of the droops,
You know, those times of sagging morale
When the spirits go boop-boop-a-doop?
Then let it rain, or let no one come,
Nor think to ring the phone—
A nook and a look for the treasured book
And I'm never really alone!

Ten Years Ago Today—A crowd of 17,000 was expected to watch Bat Battalino defend his featherweight title against Earl Mastro in the Chicago Stadium. . . . Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics, American league champions, announced that three of his star players would be sold.

LA GRANGE, 14; ORIOLES, 6.

Dubs to Fight Taylor Tonight at Marigold

Harvey Dubs, Windsor, Ont., welterweight, who recently defeated Johnny Rozina of Milwaukee, will try his luck in a 10 round bout against Tito [Theodore] Taylor of the south side tonight in Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street. Taylor is undefeated in his last seven starts, winning six decisions and scoring one draw.

Nate Bolden, Chicago light heavyweight, who at one time was considered a promising prospect but who has lost three of his last four encounters, will meet Jack Whittinghill of Bloomington, Ill., in an eight round semi-windup. Whittinghill conquered Anthony Jones and George Feltes in recent weeks.

Vincent Calzaretta, west side 175 pounder, who beat Johnny Crane last Sept. 29, will attempt to send Paul Frazier back into retirement in a four round preliminary match. Paul has had only one bout this year and that seven months ago. Bill Hawkins, Chicago junior lightweight, who also boxes as Billy Day, is paired with Joe Law, and Stanley Murczek, former Catholic Youth organization welterweight finalist, is matched with Larry Russell.

Interest in the 10 round contest between Bob Pastor, New York heavyweight, and Booker Beckwith, Gary light heavyweight, has reached the point where predictions are being made as to the probable winner. The match is scheduled in Chicago stadium Friday. In an informal poll taken yesterday of ten experts six picked Beckwith and four took Pastor.

Eddie Lander, west side lightweight, and Miss Bernice Whiteman were married yesterday at 5420 North Sheridan road. After the ceremony the couple left for a honeymoon in Detroit. They will be back tomorrow if Danny Spunt, Lander's manager, accepts a bid to have Eddie meet Guy Serean in a 10 round event in New Orleans Nov. 17. . . . Promoter Ross Miller has offered Nick Castiglione a 10 round match with Bob Montgomery, Philadelphia 135 pound contender, in the Coliseum Nov. 28.

KANSAS CITY FARM DEFEATS HAWKS, 1 TO 0

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 2 [Special].—The Kansas City Americans turned back their parent ice hockey club, the Chicago Blackhawks, in a bruising game here tonight, 1 to 0. The Americans, however, were assisted in the feat of blanking the Hawks by Sammy LoPresti, regular Chicago goalie, who played with them in place of Bill Nutt.

LoPresti stopped 43 shots by his mates, many of them labeled sure goals, while Norb Sterle, former University of Illinois star who joined the Americans last week, tallied the only goal of the game after taking a pass from the star Hawk goalie.

RED WINGS TIE AMERICANS, 3-3, IN HOME OPENER

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 2 (AP).—The Detroit Red Wings twice came from behind tonight in playing the New York Americans to a 3 to 3 overtime tie in the National Hockey league opener here before 11,452 spectators.

Three newcomers to the Americans—Mel Hill, Gus Marker, and Nick Knott—collected goals in the hard checking battle, but Detroit overcame a two-goal deficit in the third period and then matched New York's overtime score. Sid Abel, Done Grosso, and Jack Stewart tallied for Detroit.

AUSTIN BLUES WIN, 12-6.

The Austin Blues football team defeated the Beutner Panthers eleven, 12 to 6, yesterday in Weber park.

DODGERS SCORE IN ALL WAYS TO DEFEAT EAGLES

Brooklyn Registers 4th Victory, 15-6.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Nov. 2.—The Brooklyn Dodgers employed every possible scoring method to turn back the Philadelphia Eagles, 15 to 6, today in a National Football league game before a crowd of 15,899 in Ebbets field.

The Dodgers put together a touchdown, the extra point, two field goals and a safety for their fourth league victory in seven starts. It was the fifth defeat for Philadelphia against two triumphs. Lineup:

CRAFTSMAN WINS SHORE LAND DOG SHOW AS FINEST

Champion Craftsman of Walnut Hall, a beagle owned by Mrs. Harkness Edwards, Donerail, Ky., last night was judged the best dog in the third annual Shore Land Kennel club dog show held at the Onwentsia Country club.

Winning dog shows is no new experience for Craftsman. Under the handling of Col. R. L. Davis, this little black, white and tan dog has won the hound group in the last 16 shows in which he has been entered, and in six of these fixtures he has been best in show. During the last two weeks he has headed shows at Mobile, Ala., and Fort Worth, Tex.

Rally by Bears Fails; Packers Win, 16 to 14

A Thriller Like the Others.

In the final analysis it was a game just like the 45 others which had gone before between these two rivals in more than two decades. Green Bay struck the first blow, capitalized on the Bears' fumbles, then had enough left when the champions finally did pull themselves together.

The statistics show Green Bay's superiority on yesterday's clear, crisp afternoon. The Packers made 16 first downs to the Bears' 10. They almost doubled the champions' mark in yardage, 276 to 159. They rushed for 123 yards and the Bears could squeeze out only 65 yards thru the line. The Packers completed 10 out of 19 passes for 153 yards and the Bears cashed in on only nine of 22 for 94 yards.

Isbell Makes First Touchdown.

The crowd, which spilled over onto the field and lined in front of the box seats in chairs, still was whooping it up as the Bears made their desperate bid for victory in the fourth quarter. This was the picture:

The Packers had driven from their 29 yard line for a touchdown the first time they got the ball in the first quarter. The touchdown play was a dash around his right end by Isbell. Johnny Siegal had blocked the kick. On four other occasions the Packers threatened in the first half, two of the four field goals Clarke Hinkle tried during the afternoon having gone wild.

The third quarter had been a nightmare for the distraught champions due to an epidemic of fumbles. Hugh Gallarneau dashed thru center on a quick opening, but fumbled, and Bud Svendsen recovered on the Bears' 46. Isbell's second pass of the series was taken by Lou Brock, who got behind Gary Famiglietti, snared the ball on the Bears' 13, and ran for a touchdown. The kick made it 13 to 0.

No Missing This Time.

Later in this period Hal Van Every lugged back Luckman's punt to the Packers' 46. A pass to Joe Laws was good for fifteen yards. Hinkle picked up five and on fourth down went back to the Bears' 44 yard line. He had thrice failed on field goals, but there was no missing this time. The ball cleared the bar with plenty to spare.

All right, now—fourth quarter—the Bears behind, 16 to 0, and worse still, in danger of being shut out.

The champions were on the Packers' 47 yard line, Dick Plasman having taken a 16 yard forward from Luckman as the third period ended. Ray Nolting pounded the Packers' left side for five yards and Norm Standlee punched out three yards. Then Nolting raced to the 35 on a quick opening.

And Standlee Goes Over.

Here was a spot for George McAfee, who had been just another Bear all afternoon to the aroused Packers. The One Play Kid started around his left end, was bottled up, retreated, and finally was slammed down on the soft turf for an eleven yard loss. After Nolting took a hook pass for twelve yards, Ken Kavanaugh dropped one right in his hands. But on the next pass, Hutson tripped Kavanaugh on the Green Bay 9 yard line. Standlee finally bolted over from the 3 yard line, taking Charley Brock along with him. The kick by Bob Snyder made it 16 to 7.

The Packers came roaring back after the kickoff and had scoring designs which took them to the Bears' 44 when McAfee intercepted one of Isbell's passes and raced to the Green Bay 15 yard line, a fifty-five yard run. After Standlee lost a yard, Luckman, back to pass, finally got up to the 15. Then he passed to Hampton Pool, who juggled it a bit as he raced diagonally toward the east sideline. He finally was chased out a yard away. On third down, Nolting catapulted over center and Stydahar kicked the extra point.

Bears Need Only a Field Goal.

There still were six minutes left to play. Now the Bears needed only a field goal to win the game.

They kicked off to the Packers, who suddenly had been put on the defensive. Lee Artoe's kick, tho, went out of bounds, and the Northmen took the ball on their 45. The Bears, with all the aplomb of old, started clicking again after Bob Swisher toted Hinkle's punt thirty-two yards to Green Bay's 46.

Luckman's first play was a lateral to McAfee. But the Bears couldn't shake him loose, tho he did pick up six yards. Osmanski could get only two yards. Luckman juggled the pass back from Turner, but squirmed to within a foot of a first down. In this payoff spot, Osmanski got just enough to give the Bears a new start on the Packers' 36.

Now they were within striking distance of a field goal which would win the game. But they weren't close enough yet for the kick. Andy Uram knocked down Luckman's long pass to Pool. Luckman elected to try again. But the Packers swarmed thru. One of them, Harry Jacunski, piled into the Bear passer. Down he tumbled and the ball popped out of his hands. Pete Tinsley, Green Bay guard, fell on the loose ball. The field goal threat was over.

Well, the Bears had just one more chance. Swisher took Hinkle's punt on his 8 yard line and was chased out on the 24. Only half a minute remained.

This time Luckman had enough protection to throw a long pass down the middle. But Pool couldn't quite reach it. Sid again wound up, but this time the ball plopped on the Packers' 33, far out of Swisher's reach. On the next play, Luckman was trapped, but ran right up the middle to the Bears' 34, inches short of a first down.

Time for one more play. Osmanski took a lateral from Luckman, cut in toward the center of the field and dashed to Green Bay's 40 yard line. Before the play was over, Stydahar was limping toward the officials as fast as he could in the rôle of a substitute to stop the clock. But the gun sounded and it was all over.

Standlee Starts Bears Moving, but It's in Vain

Norman Standlee, Bears' back, smashes over from the 3 yard line, taking Charles Brock of the Packers with him, to score Chicago's first touchdown in fourth quarter of yesterday's game in Wrigley field. Standlee's touchdown started the Bears on a 14 point rally, but the defending champions lost their chance for victory when a fumble ended a third scoring drive.

WEHRLE BEATS STEWART; TAKES MEXICAN TITLE

Mexico City, Mex., Nov. 2 [Special].—Wilford Wehrle of Racine, Wis., today captured the Mexican amateur golf championship by defeating Spec Stewart of Santa Fe, N. M., 2 and 1. Stewart yesterday scored a 1 up victory over Bud Ward of Seattle, Wash., the United States amateur champion.

One up after the first 18 holes, Wehrle was reduced to even terms at the 30th. He regained his lead on the 31st by sinking a 30 foot putt and held it until the 35th, where he holed a stymie to win the match.

Scalpers Have Profitable Day at Big Game

Wrigley field was a garden spot for the scalpers before yesterday's battle between the Bears and Packers—at least for all except 11 of the price wizards. This number was taken into custody. Ace Gutowksy, whose National Football league all-time record of gaining yardage was broken only this season by Clarke Hinkle of the Packers, paid $4 each for two tickets in the upper grandstand.

Bill Osmanski, suffering from a chest injury, and Bob Nowaskey, whose hip bone was bruised, submitted to X-ray examinations, which revealed nothing serious. Bulldog Turner suffered a wrenched left knee during Ray Nolting's touchdown plunge. Joe Stydahar's right leg met up with more misery. The big tackle hobbled from a pulled muscle.

The regulation parking spots near the park and the makeshift ones in back yards of private residences reaped a harvest and wrecked the tempers of many fans. One of the filling stations on Addison street boosted its parking fee to $1.50. The usual back yard price was 75 cents to $1.

Tho no official announcement of gate receipts at National Football league games is made, it is certain that yesterday's take was considerably more than $100,000.

"Why did we lose?" It was Paddy Driscoll, Bears' back field coach, repeating the question. "You can't explain these kinds of defeats," he philosophized. "You go along knocking over every one in sight, then you have a bad day." Luke Johnsos perhaps was most dejected of the Bears' coaches.

If both the Bears and Packers go thru their remaining schedule unbeaten and wind up in a tie for the leadership of the western division, the tie-breaker probably will be played in Wrigley field on Dec. 14. The teams end their regular campaigns on Dec. 7.

The Packers had plenty of moral support. It was almost like being in Green Bay every time Curley Lambeau's hustling young men scored or drove deep in Bear territory.

Tony Canadeo, the Packers' freshman back field star from Chicago, did not play, because of a broken hand.

PSYCHOLOGY (NO POSITION LISTED) BEAT THE BEARS

Plus a Mystery Defense Lambeau Won't Discuss.

BY JAMES COSTIN.

A special defense and psychology—but particularly psychology—brought about the defeat of the champion Chicago Bears in Wrigley field yesterday afternoon.

Curley Lambeau thinks so, and since Curley is the coach of the Green Bay Packers and as such concocted the special defense and built up the psychological factor, his ideas on what happened to the Bears, and why, bear some weight.

"The game was a setup for us, psychologically," Curley said after the game while he was being pounded on the back in the Packers' dressing room. "They had beaten us four times in a row and had taken the championship away from us. Our players kept reading, day after day, about the Bears being the wonder team—the unbeatable team. We read where they had, not one team, but three teams. We knew the Bears were reading that stuff, too. We hoped they believed it—we didn't. We knew they could be beaten, but it would take the best football we—or anybody—could play to do it. And, with that in mind, we got ready for 'em."

But Curley Won't Talk!

It was obvious, as you heard the jubilant Packers going in and out of their showers after the game, that their coach had the right slant on the game. Sure, they were hopped up, psychologically, for the Bears—but it takes something more than psychology to beat the Bears. How did the Packers do it?

"Well, besides the psychology, we built up a special defense to stop their power and passing," replied Lambeau.

A special defense? What was it? The five, six, or seven man line the Packers employed at various times? Just what sort of a defense, special or otherwise, is it that can stop those Bears? Come on, Curley, give. George Halas knows all about it, now, anyhow, so it won't hurt to tell.

"O, no, he doesn't," replied Lambeau, who hastily shut off his questioner, rushed out into the dressing room where the exceedingly happy Packers were dressing and, after several minutes of effort, caught their attention.

"Not one word about defense!" Curley called to his players, "Not one word about what we did on defense today."

Curley was afraid the reporter would ask the Packers themselves what happened to the Bears' attack in the first three quarters. The players wouldn't say, after this warning from the boss.

They're Great—We're Better.

But, don't other teams frame special defenses for the Bears, and isn't psychology always against the team that has been winning consistently?

"Sure, that's right," Lambeau replied. "But we happen to have the ball team to beat even the Bears when we're psychologically right—and have the right defense. We played our best game of the year in the first three quarters. Our offense clicked, and our special defense clicked. We scored 16 points, they didn't score at all. We got cocky in the fourth quarter; very careless, in fact. Being the great team that they are, the Bears took advantage of our mistakes and came right back with two touchdowns which made it a ball game that was one for the books. They are still a great team—one of the best of all time—but I think we are better, and I also think we proved it this afternoon."

George Halas, the Bears' owner-coach, agreed in part with Lambeau.

"Yes, they were hot," Halas said in his office after the game, "and they're a great ball club—make no mistake about that. But just a little break here or there—particularly in the fourth quarter when we started rolling—would have won the game for us. As the game was played, however, we were beaten by a great ball club; a club that was better than we were today. They made few mistakes, and gave us few openings. More power to them!"

Musso Explains Mixup.

Halas, who rushed onto the field at the conclusion of the game to argue with the officials over the latters' refusal to give the Bears a sorely needed time out in the last five seconds, refused to discuss that angle, but George Musso, Bears' co-captain and guard, was not so reticent.

"As soon as Bill Osmanski had been tackled after a first down," Musso said, "I grabbed Referee Heintz by the arm and called for time out. I knew there were only five or six seconds remaining, but that would give us a chance to try for a field goal, anyway. Heintz, however, said I wasn't the captain of the team and therefore could not ask for time out.

"Several of the Bears joined me in the group and insisted to Heintz that I was the team's captain, but he refused to stop the clock, with the result that the gun went off ending the game before we could get the clock stopped. Of course, I don't know what would have happened, but if the clock had been stopped we would have a chance to try a place kick from the Packers' 40 yard line. Bob Snyder might have made it for us to give us the game, 17 to 16."

WPA RELIEFERS GET 59 CENTS OF EACH $1 SPENT

Administration Costs Eat Balance, Study Shows.

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—The startling revelation that relief workers receive only 59 cents out of each dollar spent by the federal, state, and local governments on the WPA program was made tonight by the National Economy league in a special study.

The report was based upon an analysis of the 1 billion 830 million dollars spent on the WPA program in the fiscal year ended last June 30. Of this total the federal government supplied 1 billion 300 million dollars and state and local governments provided an estimated 530 millions.

"This study, revealing the high cost of a work-relief system, supports the league's previous recommendation for a return to coöperative direct relief during the armament period," said H. G. W. Sundelof, executive director of the private nonprofit organization.

How $1 Is Divided.

The league's study presented the following summary of where the WPA money went in the 1941 fiscal year, in total millions spent and breakdown per $1 of WPA funds:

	Total millions spent	Cents Per WPA $1
Federal WPA administration..	45	2.5
Other federal adm. agencies...	15	.8
Sal. of supervisory employés..	105	5.7
Spec. nonrelief project workers	13	.7
Subtotal	178	9.7
Fed. nonlabor cost on project..	140	7.7
Sponsors' nonlabor cost, proj.	440	24.0
Total overhead	758	41.4
Wages of WPA relief workers	1,072	58.6
Total cost of WPA program	1,830	100.0

In the above table the item WPA administration refers to executive salaries. The item other federal administrative agencies covers appropriations to the general accounting office, treasurer, and United States Employés Compensation commission for handling relief funds and accounts. Supervisory employés are not chosen from relief rolls and so the needy do not benefit thru expenditures for this type of employment. Special nonrelief project workers are skilled labor needed on WPA projects. The subtotal represents total administrative costs. Nonlabor costs refer to expenditures for materials and supplies needed on WPA projects not reaching the pockets of the needy.

"Considerable savings in overhead costs could be made by abandoning work relief during the armament period, and providing such direct relief as is necessary thru the state and local welfare agencies," said the report.

Says Direct Relief Better.

"Since state and local welfare agencies are already established, an increase in their case load would not entail a corresponding increase in overhead costs.

"Other considerations may lead to a preference for work relief during depressions, but the present shortage of materials and engineering talent, as well as the financial burden of defense, dictates a suspension of this form of relief at the present time."

The report said that during the present fiscal year supervisory and administrative employés together constitute a group of about 58,000 nonrelief employés.

"This may be a strong factor tending to introduce bias in the WPA estimate of the need for its own continued activities," the league commented. Only yesterday an 8½ per cent pay increase for WPA workers became effective, applying to nearly 1 million on work relief.

Centralia, Ill., Nov. 2 (AP).—Two adventurous 13 year old youths, accidentally locked in a freight car last Thursday afternoon at Hermitage, Tenn., were rescued here today. Officials said both were on the verge of collapse from fright and hunger.

The boys, Ray Smith and Charles Jones, were without food and water for approximately 70 hours. They were found by a Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad car inspector in a routine inspection and rushed to a hospital, where they told of their experience.

After school Thursday they hid in the first open boxcar they saw, intending to hook a ride to Jackson, Tenn., to visit the Smith boy's mother.

The train lurched. The sliding door slammed shut. They couldn't open it from the inside.

Hospital attendants said the condition of neither boy was serious and that they probably will be started home tomorrow or Tuesday.

His body was discovered at the side of the road 200 feet east of the police station. He had been dead about two hours. There were no blood marks where the body was found. "Did Muggins stay with you all the time?" the boy was asked after being taken home.

"He slept against me—close," George replied.

DROP 2 GEORGIA COLLEGES FROM APPROVED LIST

Lawrence Kas., Nov. 2 (AP).—The University of Georgia and the Georgia School of Technology have been removed from the Association of American Universities' list of approved institutions because of "unjustified political interference," Dean E. B. Stouffer of the University of Kansas, association secretary, said today.

Stouffer said the decision was made at an association conference in Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 30.

The action, Stouffer said, was taken on the same evidence as that on which the Southern University conference dropped Georgia university from its membership recently because of alleged "political interference" by Gov. Eugene Talmadge.

Thirty-three institutions comprise the Association of American universities and, altho Georgia is not a member, it was on the approved list. Graduates from institutions on the approved list are accepted into graduate schools of member institutions.

Welders Vote Strikes at 3 Plane Plants

Burbank, Cal., Nov. 2 (AP).—Welders at three major aircraft factories agreed today to call a strike at midnight Tuesday unless the National Labor Relations board authorizes an election to determine bargaining rights. The workers, numbering about 300 and meeting in an open air theater, were from Lockheed Aircraft corporation and its subsidiary, Vega Airplane company, of Burbank, and the Consolidated Aircraft Corporation of San Diego.

James Goss, business representative of the United Aircraft Welders of America, said the union has a 90 per cent membership among the 650 welders in the three plants and has been seeking an election for the last three and one-half years.

Withhold Strike Action.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 2 (AP).—CIO workers at Bell Aircraft corporation's two warplane plants, busy on $150,000,000 worth of United States and British orders, voted today to withhold strike action until the National Defense Mediation board considers their grievances. The vote was taken at a special meeting of the CIO United Automobile Workers aviation division, which balloted two weeks ago in favor of a walkout.

The union, which has a contract with the firm and claims 90 per cent of the 10,500 workers employed at Bell's two plants in Buffalo and Niagara Falls, seeks a 20 cent hourly general wage increase, a boost in the minimum wage from 50 to 75 cents an hour, and a union shop.

Labor Board Hearing.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 2 (AP).—The local office of the National Labor Relations board announced it would hold a hearing tomorrow on a petition of 52 riverboat officers whose strike threatens curtailments of Carnegie Illinois Steel corporation operations.

320,000 Workers to Get Pay Increases This Week

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2 (AP).—The wages-hour administration estimated today that 320,000 workers would receive higher pay under new minimum wage orders affecting five industries. The orders, effective tomorrow, establish a 40-cent-an-hour minimum for the shoe, furniture, jewelry, and gray iron foundry industries and a 35 cent minimum for the lumber and timber products industry.

Canada Puts Ceiling Price on All Goods

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 2 (AP).—Canada's wartime price control regulations which go into effect Nov. 17 place a ceiling on the cost of all goods and a wide variety of services from public utilities to hairdressing, it was disclosed today in an order-in-council. The order fixes the highest price paid for goods or services between Sept. 15 and Oct. 11 as the maximum and is retroactive to cover contracts already made for delivery after Nov. 17.

In addition to all goods, 11 services were brought under the price ceiling regulations. They include public utilities, telegraph, telephone and radio; transportation, repairs of all kinds, the supplying of meals, refreshments and beverages; motion pictures, laundries, undertakers, plumbing, hairdressers and beauty parlors, warehouses and storage.

Scrap Iron Maximums.

Scrap iron was one of the first commodities for which definite prices were announced. Maximum prices which may be paid for the war-vital metal in Ontario and Quebec retroactive to Sept. 22, were set as follows: Delivered to a consumer's plant, the price for No. 1 machinery cast, gross ton, must not exceed $23 at Toronto, Windsor, Walkerville, Ont., and Montreal. The price at Fort Williams, Ont., was established at $18 a ton. Lower prices are prescribed for No. 2 machinery cast iron scrap, automobile cast, plow points, chilled cast iron, white iron and stove plate cast.

To police consumer credit restrictions, the Wartime Prices and Trade board's powers are extended to include terms and conditions of advertising to sale or supply of goods and services.

Consumer Credit Order.

A consumer credit order, made public Oct. 11, decrees that down payments on any goods affected by the order, other than private automobiles, must be at least one-third of the total cash price and not less than $10 at date of delivery. The balance must be paid in full within 12 months with minimum monthly payments of $5. Minimum down payment on automobiles must be 50 per cent of the cash price with 12 to 18 months, depending on the cost of the car, in which to complete the purchase.

Authorities here said they believed the element of competition would continue as brisk as ever despite the price ceiling.

National Steel Output Rate Unchanged in Week

Cleveland, O., Nov. 2 (AP).—The magazine Steel today estimated that national steel ingot production last week held at 95½ per cent of estimated plant capacity.

NEW SEC PROBE BEGUN IN LONG MIDLAND FIGHT

May Bring Another Settlement Plan.

As attorneys in the seven year old reorganization of the Midland United the Midland Utilities companies were preparing yesterday to resume hearings in Wilmington, Del., before Spe learned that Securities and Exchange commission accountants were probing the companies' records.

The SEC last May filed a memorandum with the Wilmington federal District court suggesting a plan for settlement of the complicated intercompany claims which have impeded the progress of the reorganization.

The latest SEC inquiry is reported to be preparatory to the drafting of a second memorandum. The SEC under the new federal bankruptcy laws is authorized to assist the court in reorganization matters.

Part of Insull Structure.

The two Midland companies are remnants of the superstructure of holding companies which Samuel Insull erected to unite a vast midcontinental power system which began to topple in 1932.

Thousands of investors in the Midland companies, banks, and Chicago utility interests have waited since June, 1934, when the companies entered bankruptcy, for a final settlement of creditors' claims.

Underlying the Midland United system, which includes Midland Utilities as a subholding company, are operating companies which provide electricity, gas or transportation services to 933 communities in Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and Ohio with a population of almost 1,900,000.

In the current hearings on the allowance and classification of claims before the master of chancery, the following companies have an interest:

Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, $2,724,000 on one claim and $234,000 on another against Midland United.

Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, a claim of about a million dollars against Midland United.

Peoples Gas Light and Coke company, a claim of $1,171,000 and interest against United as indorser of a demand note of Utilities.

Peoples Gas Subsidiary corporation, a $2,282,000 claim against United.

Commonwealth Subsidiary corporation, [subsidiary of Commonwealth Edison company], a $2,846,000 claim.

Middle West corporation, which owns a majority of the $6 preferred stock and a block of common stock of Midland United. The bulk of United common stock is held by Commonwealth Edison, Peoples Gas, Public Service of Northern Illinois, and United Gas Improvement.

Public Has Big Interest.

The public's interest in the Midland companies is represented by investments in United's 206,921 shares of $3 preferred stocks and Utilities' 6 million dollars of debentures, 89,050 shares of 6 per cent prior lien stock, 121,585 shares of 7 per cent prior lien, 143,401 shares of 7 per cent class A preferred, and 35,223 shares of 6 per cent class A preferred.

INTEGRATION HEARING.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2 (AP).—The securities commission instituted proceedings today to bring the United Public Utilities corporation system within the geographic limitations of the holding company act and set a hearing for Dec. 22. United is the top unit in a system with consolidated assets of about $22,600,000 comprising 13 utility and six nonutility subsidiaries. The system reaches into eight states, but its utility properties are mainly in the Dakotas, Ohio, and Indiana.

Debts of Major Nations Show Vast Increases in 10 Years

German Gain Biggest

An analysis of debt increases for five major nations during 1930-1940, published yesterday by the Federation of Tax Administrators, showed the following percentages of gains: Germany, 600; Japan, 500; United States, 165; Canada, 58; Great Britain, 20.

Dr. Simeon E. Leland.

Information on which the study was based came from the research files of Dr. Simeon E. Leland of the University of Chicago.

The report said that Germany had been spending heavily for war preparations during the entire 10 year period and that the Japanese increase came largely during the period in which Japan waged war on China.

"Britain, not actually at war until the middle of the fiscal year 1940, showed a debt increase of less than one-fifth," the report said. It declared that "the 1930-1940 debt increases appear trivial beside those which will result from the greatly expanded outlays of all these nations at present."

Start of Collapse?

New York, Nov. 2 (AP).—Donald M. Nelson, executive director of the Supply Priorities and Allocations board, declared Germany's collapse has been started by the mass production of weapons in America.

In a magazine article Nelson said there was evidence that the Germans were readjusting their mechanical plans in an attempt to equal or surpass American weapons.

"It marks the beginning of the German collapse," he wrote, "since no nation or group of nations can equal us when once we bow our necks and put our backs and our hearts into our job."

He asserted, however, that America had been "too slow," and that before the job is completed, it may change at least temporarily the pattern of American life.

Investors' Guide

CONSUMER GOODS.

I became interested in United Merchants and Manufacturers, Inc., after reading a market letter on consumer goods companies. I have heard, however, that this company has some sort of dividend restriction. Can you give me a report?—G. C. T.

Answer: United Merchants and Manufacturers is a holding company whose subsidiaries and affiliates manufacture cotton, silk, and rayon textiles. Nine plants are operated. The company was incorporated in Delaware in 1928 and has its office in New York City.

As a result of a reduction in the company's bank indebtedness, restrictions previously in effect on dividend payments have been lifted. Previously no common stock dividends exceeding 50 cents a share annually could be declared without the consent of the creditor banks.

A 50 cent dividend was declared payable Dec. 20. The previous dividend of 25 cents was paid in June. In 1937 and in 1940, dividends amounted to 50 cents each year. No dividends were paid in 1938 and 1939.

The common stock, of which there were 599,903 shares outstanding at the end of June, is deposited under a voting trust which is to continue until June 1, 1943, unless previously terminated. The voting trust certificates are listed on the New York Stock exchange.

The company had a loss of $951,724 in the 1938 fiscal year ended July 31, but showed a profit of $1,466,197 the next year. In 1940, for the year ended June 30, net income was $2,021,620 and sales totaled $42,459,370. For the 1941 fiscal year, net income was $2,623,132 as sales rose to $51,668,680.

AUTO-ORDNANCE.

I noticed recently that an Auto-Ordnance corporation paid an initial dividend. Is this a new company?—B. P.

Answer: This company was formed by the merger in October of Thompson Automatic Arms corporation and its subsidiary, Auto-Ordnance corporation.

PENNROAD.

Is the Pennroad corporation a railroad?—A. J. C.

Answer: Pennroad corporation is an investing company organized to invest in transportation securities.

REPORT BATTLE DEVELOPING ON PRICE SCHEME

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2 (AP).—An administration campaign was reported in the making today for reversal of the house banking committee's decision to permit farm product prices to rise higher before ceilings could be imposed. Informed sources said that protests against the committee's action probably would be taken directly to President Roosevelt, and his open support asked for amendment of the bill when it comes up in the house, probably next week.

One administration spokesman said that price control would be "practically no good" if food costs were to rise still more. Some committee members agreed.

"The committee bill invites and encourages, rather than deters, inflation," Rep. Albert Gore [D., Tenn.] said. He served notice that he would renew his campaign for an overall price control bill, such as Bernard M. Baruch, chairman of the War Industries board 20 years ago, advocated. The committee twice rejected that proposal, which, in brief, calls for putting a ceiling on prices, wages, and rents as they stood on a selected date.

Rep. Charles L. Gifford [R., Mass.] expressed the opinion that "the public had better digest this bill a little."

HEAVY RAINFALL THREAT TO CORN, SOY BEAN CROPS

Near record rainfall in the states which produce the bulk of the surplus wheat, corn, and soy bean crops has brought field work to a standstill. Reports indicate that unless there is a material change in weather conditions the corn and soy bean crops may suffer substantial damage.

Reports covering a wide area last week indicated that less than 25 per cent of the Illinois corn and soy bean crops had been harvested.

Near Record Government Printing Job Under Way

The second largest printing contract ever awarded by the government printing office for outside printing work is in production at the I. S. Berlin Printing and Lithographing company, 426 S. Clinton street, company officials disclosed yesterday. The company is printing 15 million defense stamp albums of a new "student's" series, to be delivered to the government at the rate of 500,000 a day.

Shipments of Hosiery Set New Record for September

Shipments of all types of hosiery during September reached a new record for the month at 13,766,134 dozen pairs, compared with 12,762,229 in the same month last year, the National Association of Hosiery Manufacturers reported yesterday. Shipments of women's seamless rayon hosiery increased 76 per cent, reflecting the "freezing" of raw silk stocks in the United States.
